TWO CHICAGO CONVENTIONS TRYING TO GET TOGETHER

NO AGREEMENT REACHED; HUGHES AND ROOSEVELT MAY BE NAMED TODAY

Committees from Republicans and Progressives Confer and "Report Progress," but Admit No Decision Was Made—Committeemen Will Refer Matter to Conventions and Await Result of Ballots Before Attempting Any More Meetings.

Chicago, June 8.—The conferees of the republican and progressive parties adjourned at 12:30 o'clock a. m. after a two-hour session with the announcement that they would not meet again until after the sessions of the two conventions tomorrow. The only statement given out was that "we report progress."

The conferees were unanimous in asserting that the conference was entirely harmonious. Discussion of candidates followed just two lines; the progressives talked only about Colonel Roosevelt, the republican conferees suggested the names of various favorite sons, including Fairbanks, Root, Hughes and others, but reached no unanimous decision that they favored any one of them above the other. The entire range of discussion, it was said, never got beyond generalities.

While both sides reported "progress" the republicans appeared to take the more optimistic view of the situation than some of the progressives, among whom there was far from a unanimity of opinion that agreement was probable.

WILL REPORT TO CONVENTIONS.

It was agreed that the conferees should report to their respective conventions in the morning. Neither side was at all sure that the convention which it represented could be controlled. It was understood that three ballots would be taken in the republican convention and if without result there should be a further conference tomorrow night. If however, one or both conventions should make a nomination tomorrow all further conferences would be impossible.

Early in the evening there was a report that progressive conferees had offered the names of Senator Lodge of Massachusetts and General Goethals and Leonard Wood as acceptable to them but this proved to be untrue. No such suggestion was made. With the understanding that they should report to their conventions and await the result of tomorrow's ballot the conference adjourned until after tomorrow's session at which conferees from both the republican and progressive conventions would seize the opportunity to discuss the situation fully among themselves and if no definite action was taken on either side in the meantime, the committee would be tomorrow afternoon in far better position to understand and give expression to the real sentiment of the two conventions. The republicans said that during the meeting they were distinctly encouraged by the evident desire of the progressives for harmony. At no time, it was said, was there a concerted or insistent demand from the

MEXICAN RIOTERS BURN U.S. CONSULATE AT DURANGO CITY

OIL OPERATOR FROM CHIHUAHUA SAYS FEELING MORE TENSE NOW THAN AT ANY TIME SINCE TROOPS CROSSED THE BORDER AFTER VILLA.

WASHINGTON MAY PROTEST

Yaquis Reported Raiding Ranches and Small Towns in Sonora—Hundreds of Tribe Reported to Have Emigrated into Arizona Already—Mexicans Will Stand by Carranza.

El Paso, Texas, June 8.—The American consulate at Durango City, Mex., was destroyed by fire by an anti-American demonstration, according to information received here by American officers here tonight. The rioters applied a torch to the building after dragging the flag through the streets.

El Paso, Texas, June 8.—Gen. Gabriel Garcia, Carranza's commander of North Chihuahua, today issued a statement in Juarez in which he declared the recent anti-American riots in Chihuahua City were "entirely an affair of the citizens" and pointed out that the government authorities are in no way countenancing them.

"People in the United States little realize the irritating effect of the presence of American troops on Mexican soil has on our people," he said. "It is in fact, it is rather to be wondered that no meetings of protest have been held sooner."

P. Stanley Twells, an oil operator, said the feeling in the city has been more tense in the last few days than at any time since the American troops crossed the border.

Mr. Twells also said before leaving Chihuahua City yesterday he had been told an American resident of the city had shot three Mexicans who attacked his home. Military authorities at Juarez asserted the situation in Chihuahua state was under control today.

May Make Protest.

Washington, June 8.—A state department dispatch today described in detail the anti-American demonstration in Chihuahua City, Mex., yesterday, during which placards were torn from the walls of the American consulate. The department has not decided whether a protest will be made to General Carranza.

Yaquis Raid Ranches.

Douglas, Ariz., June 8.—Reports that Yaquis have been raiding ranches and small towns in the southern part of the Arispe district of Sonora were officially confirmed here today by Ives G. Levelev, de facto Mexican consul. While the consul has received no list of those killed by the Indians, he said that official reports received in Agua Prieta state that casualties have been numerous.

The Indians are making their headquarters in Sierra de Aconchi, a range of mountains near the Sonora river, and are raiding the surrounding country for food and clothing.

Americans arriving here today from Cumpas, Sonora, said that while deceptions had been reported from the section described by the consul it was stated that the Yaquis are accompanied by their families. This lends color to the belief that they are awaiting a favorable time to leave Mexico and follow hundreds of their tribe who have crossed recently into Arizona. After crossing the border they are transformed into peaceful workmen.

IDENTIFY BLOODY SHIRT AS PROPERTY OF WILLS POINT MAN

Wills Point, Texas, June 8.—Articles of clothing, including a blood-stained shirt, which, according to officers, were identified by members of the household as belonging to R. J. Morau, were found in the house today where Capt. and Mrs. H. F. Goodnight were killed recently.

Morau, a son-in-law, is held in connection with the killing. When a cistern in the yard was drained today, an iron bar was found in the bottom, which officers asserted was probably the instrument used in killing the aged couple, and seriously injuring their daughter, Mrs. Morau.

Officers continue working on the case.

Standing By Carranza.

Mexico City, June 8.—Numerous telegrams of adhesion and felicitation from all governors of states in Mexico and from a number of private citizens have been received by General Carranza since his recent rite to the American government demanding withdrawal of the American expedition. The government newspapers interpret these expressions as tending to show that Carranza enjoys the confidence of all classes and "proves the traditional patriotism of the Mexican people."

AVERAGE GRAIN CROP PREDICTED FOR PRESENT YEAR

Washington, June 8.—Present indications point to a wheat crop 300,000,000 bushels smaller this year than that of last year. Department of agriculture forecasts today indicated a winter wheat crop of 469,000,000 bushels, 30,000,000 bushels less than forecast from May 1 conditions, due largely to insects in Kansas and Oklahoma, an a spring wheat crop of 246,000,000 bushels, due to a decrease of 8 per cent in the acreage from last year and to the late wet spring.

Crop conditions on June 1 indicated less production than last year of small grain crops, but they promise to be about the same as the average production for the last five years.

Fruit crops as a whole are good; the apple crop, prospect is good, especially in the eastern states, but the peach crop promise is rather poor.

Indications are that the oats crop will be about 300,000,000 bushels smaller than last year, being particularly poor in most southern states and in Oklahoma and Central Kansas, where green bug has injured it.

Production forecasts of important crops based on their condition June 1 and issued today by the department of agriculture show:

Winter wheat, 469,000,000 bushels. Spring wheat, 246,000,000 and all wheat 715,000,000 bushels. Oats, 1,255,000,000 bushels. Barley, 178,000,000 bushels. Rye, 44,000,000 bushels. Apples, 72,000,000 barrels. Peaches, 42,000,000 barrels. Other details of the crop report are:

Winter wheat: Condition, 73.2, yield 14.2. Spring wheat: Acreage, 17,851,000; condition 58.2; yield 14.8. All wheat: Acreage, 50,871,000; condition 77.7, yield 14.1. Oats: Acreage 40,589,000; condition 56.9 and yield 30.5. Barley: Acreage 7,757,000; condition 56.3 and yield 24.4. Rye: Condition 56.9; yield 16. Apples: Condition, 93.4. Peaches: Condition 55.4.

REPUBLICANS STAGE R-ALL FIGHT

It was said that the Republicans were staging a "R-ALL" fight in the city of Chicago, June 8.—Three days of rain, but a stop to nearly all outdoor activities, has had a depressing effect upon many of the delegates, and as a result there has been developed a strain of belligerency in many normally not observable. There have occurred several clashes among delegates in hotel lobbies and last night in the lobby of the Congress hotel Sherman adherents and Roosevelt followers engaged in a free-for-all fight and scramble that involved several score men. Police experienced difficulty in restoring order and several persons were slightly injured during the melee.

RUSSIANS RETAKE LUTSK AND GAIN OTHER POSITIONS

GERMAN ATTEMPT TO ADVANCE LINE SOUTH OF DOUJAMONT PUT DOWN BY FRENCH BARRIER FIRE—INFANTRY ATTACKS GOING ON AROUND HOOGE.

HAMPSHIRE SURVIVORS LAND

Entente Allies Prohibit Export of Coal to Greece in Order to Prevent Supplies Reaching Enemy—Italians Report Successes Northwest of Trent After Severe Fighting.

The Associated Press summarizes the war news as follows:

Having recaptured Lutsk, one of the triangle of Russian forts in Volhynia, from the Austro-Hungarians the Russians are pressing their adversaries westward. In numerous places not only have the Russians gained the banks of the Ikwa and Sty rivers but have crossed the streams and continued their advance against their foes. In the region of Kovel midway between Lutsk and Brest-Litovsk and in the vicinity of Rovno southeast of the fortress the Russians have begun actions against the Austro-Hungarians.

Likewise in Galicia there has been no letup in the Russian attacks against the soldiers of the dual monarchy from whom they have captured along the heavily fortified positions. In the fighting the Russians have materially added to their prisoners and their stores of captured guns, machine guns and war materials.

FRENCH PUT DOWN GERMAN ATTACKS.

With the capture of Fort Vaux, northeast of Verdun, the Germans have attempted to advance their line against the French east and west of the Thiaumont farm, south of Douaumont. The French barrier fire, however, held them back. Northwest of Verdun around Hill 304 and in the region of Chattancourt the artillery duels are still intense.

Intermittent artillery duels have given away to vicious infantry attacks and counter attacks by the Germans and British around Hooze. Sapping operations between the Vimy ridge and La Bassee canal and near the Hohenzollern redoubt were to the advantage of the British, according to London.

HAMPSHIRE SURVIVORS DRIFT ASHORE ON RAFT.

Northwest of Trent in the Orler region the Italians have attacked and captured several points of vantage from the Austrians and further south in the Chiese valley have repulsed Austrian offensives.

Although it had been believed that the entire ship's company of the cruiser Hampshire was lost when that vessel sank while carrying Earl Kitchener to Russia (twelve men have drifted ashore on a raft).

All experts of coal to Greece have been prohibited. This probably is in line with announcements that the entente allies were considering restrictive measures against Greek commerce "to prevent supplies reaching the enemy."

Germans Hold Fort Vaux.

Paris, June 8.—The bombarded shell of old Fort Vaux finally has passed into possession of the Germans, after a heroic resistance, in which the troops were cut off from food supplies for five days and from all communication for twenty-four hours. The French on withdrawing, however, still held the trenches sweeping around the western and southern slopes of the fortress. The fort had been gradually pounded to pieces in a terrific seven days' bombardment.

Early yesterday General Raynal's force was cut off for the first time from communicating with the French trenches, 300 yards south. Meanwhile, the Germans hurled two fresh divisions forward in five successive assaults which, in spite of the fearful losses, finally resulted in their gaining the inner defenses of the fort and sweeping over its exhausted defenders. Nothing is known of the fate of Raynal or of his men.

The French lines now embrace a circle of inner forts and trenches lying south of Fort Vaux, the lines constituting a semi-circle of defenses from five to six miles outside of Verdun.

Lemberg in Danger.

London, June 8, 2:39 a. m.—Special dispatches from Petrograd express the belief that the Russian successes against the Austrians are far more important than appears from the official announcements.

G. O. P. ADOPTS PLATFORM; AGREES TO CONFERENCE

SUFFRAGE PLANK AMONG STRANGERS IN G.O.P. PLATFORM WILL BE MADE TODAY

DEMOCRATIC ADMINISTRATION ASSAILED FOR EUROPEAN AND MEXICAN POLICIES PARTICULARLY—FULL NATIONAL PREPAREDNESS URGED—UNDER-WOOD TARIFF ACT DECLARED A FAILURE.

Coliseum, Chicago, June 8.—Following is the report of the republican resolutions committee:

"In 1861 the republican party stood for the Union. As it stood for the union of states, it now stands for a united people true to American ideals, loyal to American traditions, knowing no allegiance except to the constitution, to the government and to the flag of the United States.

"We believe in American policies at home and abroad.

Protection of American Rights.

"We declare that we believe in and will enforce the protection of every American citizen in all the rights secured to him by the constitution, treaties and the law of nations, at home and abroad, by land and by sea. These rights, which, in violation of the promise of their party made at Baltimore in 1912, the democratic president and the democratic congress have failed to defend, we will unflinchingly maintain.

Foreign Relations.

"We desire peace, the peace of justice and right, and believe in maintaining a straight and honest neutrality between the belligerents in the great war in Europe. We must perform our duties and insist upon all our rights as neutrals without fear and without favor.

"We believe that peace neutrality as well as the dignity and influence of the United States cannot be preserved by shifty expedients, by phrasemaking, by performances in language or by attitudes ever changing in an effort to secure groups of voters. The present administration has destroyed our influence abroad and humiliated us in our own eyes. The republican party believes that a firm, consistent and courageous foreign policy always maintained by republican presidents in accordance with American traditions is the best as it is the only true way to preserve our peace and restore us to our rightful place among the nations.

"We believe in the pacific settlement of international disputes and favor the establishment of a world court for that purpose.

Mexican.

"We deeply sympathize with the 15,000,000 people of Mexico, who for three years have seen their country devastated, their homes destroyed, their fellow citizens murdered and their women outraged by armed bands of desperadoes led by senseless, conscienceless agitators who when temporarily successful in any locality have neither sought nor been able to restore order or establish and maintain peace.

"We express our horror and indignation at the outrages which have been and are being perpetrated by these bandits upon American men and women who are in Mexico by invitation of the laws and of the government of that country and whose rights to security of person and property are guaranteed by solemn treaty obligations. We denounce the indefensible methods of interference employed by this administration in the internal affairs in Mexico and refer with shame to its failure to discharge the duty of this country as next friend to Mexico, its duty to other powers who have relied upon us as such friend and its duty to our citizens in Mexico in permitting the continuance of such conditions through failure to act promptly and firmly and by leading its influence to the continuance of such conditions through recognition of one of the factions responsible for these outrages.

"We pledge our aid in restoring order and are insisting peace in Mexico. We promise to our citizens on or near our border and those in Mexico

Asked "Going to Chicago?" Teddy Tells Bear Story

Oyster Bay, N. Y., June 8.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt declared tonight that he had nothing whatever to add to the sentiments expressed by him earlier in the day in his message to former Senator Wm. B. Jackson of Maryland in response to the suggestion that he appear before the republican convention. He still maintains the position that nothing has developed in the situation at Chicago which requires his presence there and there were no indications late tonight that he was making preparations for the trip.

The correspondents were received by Colonel Roosevelt tonight as usual at Sagamore Hill. He entertained them for some time with the story of how he shot his first bear and later invited them to visit his private den where he displayed some of his cherished trophies of the hunt.

If Too Fat Get More Fresh Air

BE MODERATE IN YOUR DIET AND REDUCE YOUR WEIGHT. TAKE OIL OF KOREIN.

Lack of fresh air is said to weaken the oxygen carrying power of the blood, the liver becomes sluggish, fat accumulates and the action of many of the vital organs are hindered thereby. The heart action becomes weak, work is an effort and the beauty of the figure is destroyed. Fat put on by indoor life is unhealthy and if nature is not assisted in throwing it off a serious case of obesity may result.

When you feel that you are getting too stout, take the matter in hand at once. Don't wait until your figure has become a joke and your health ruined through carrying around a burden of unsightly and unhealthy fat.

Spend as much time as you possibly can in the open air; breathe deeply, and get from Morrison's Drug Store or any drugist a box of oil of korein capsules; take one after each meal and one before retiring at night.

Weigh yourself every few days and keep up the treatment until you are down to normal. Oil of korein is absolutely harmless, is pleasant to take, helps the digestion and even a few days treatment has been reported to show a noticeable reduction in weight.

Amoro Sato Will Represent Japan in United States

Washington, June 9.—Amoro Sato, former Japanese ambassador to Austria, has been selected as ambassador to the United States to succeed Viscount Chinda, whose transfer to the ambassadorship at London was announced recently. Word of the selection reached here tonight.

Mr. Sato is well known in diplomatic circles here, having spent a considerable portion of his life in this country. He is a brother-in-law of the retiring ambassador and was his fellow student at De Pauw university in Indiana.

Mr. Sato is best remembered in America through his connection with the Japanese delegation to the Portsmouth conference in 1905 which ended the Russo-Japanese war. He was attached to the delegation as intermediary with the American press.

IS IN CHICAGO TO PUT HUGHES OVER

Frank H. Hitchcock.

While the movement to nominate Justice Hughes for president has been more or less spontaneous, it is now well known that Frank H. Hitchcock, postmaster general under President Taft, has been working incessantly for many weeks to secure Mr. Hughes' nomination. No other man has been so active in the judge's behalf. Mr. Hitchcock is now in Chicago. Justice Hughes declares, and the former postmaster general admits, that he is not working in Mr. Hughes' behalf at the latter's solicitation.

Judge Rules Orpet Letters Must Be Given to Defense

Waukegan, Ill., June 8.—The first two witnesses at the trial of Will Orpet, University of Wisconsin student charged with the murder of Marion Lambeth, a former sweetheart, were called today.

They were J. B. Ford, civil engineer, who explained with the aid of a plat the territory surrounding the scene of the tragedy, and Walter McGuire, chief of police of Lake Forest, who described the finding of the girl's body in the snow last February.

Orpet won a long contested point today when Judge Donnelly ruled that all letters written by the defendant to the girl and which were in the possession of the prosecution, should be turned over to the defense. David R. Conlan today began the opening address for the state.

Speakers' Club Is Host to Working Boys' Club

The Waco Speakers' club departed from its usual custom last evening. In place of meeting in the Chamber of Commerce rooms they met with the Working Boys' club in their quarters in the old Presbyterian church.

Dean Aldwin presided over the meeting, the following program being carried out:

Address of welcome, Zeb McCormick, president Speakers' club.

Response, Dr. Hodges of the Working Boys' club.

Other speakers were P. C. Wiley, who spoke very entertainingly upon "Ambition," which was well received by the boys.

E. Johnson spoke along similar lines, declaring that the boys should pick out an ideal and endeavor to come up to it.

E. Johnson spoke in a humorous vein.

A debate was given by two members of the Speakers' club on the subject, "Resolved, That the city commission should require a license of every newsboy in the city." The affirmative was represented by Frank Harrison, while the negative was handled by W. C. Spurling.

The purpose of the working boys' club has been in sympathy with what is now the attitude on sentiment of the republican and progressive parties.

and then only by arrangement with the chair. About the only thing that can interfere with this program, he said, would be a report from the peace committee.

It was just 11:22 when Chairman Harding brought down his gavel.

Chairman Harding asked the convention to rise while Monsignor Francis G. Kelley read a prayer. The convention stood in silence as he read the invocation.

Chairman Harding then announced ex-Secretary Stimson and Mr. Sweet of New York a committee to escort Chauncey M. Depew to the platform to make an address.

DEPEW, CANNON AND BORAH SPEAK

Mr. Depew, 52 years old, but with a voice still round and clear, applauded republican diplomacy, asserting that "the world always has understood us."

Without the celebrated "black cigar" Mr. Cannon virtually repeated the "melting pot" speech he delivered in the house during the passage of the immigration bill and closed by predicting that "the gates of hell" would not prevail against the republican platform if it were made broad enough to cover all Americans.

Chairman Harding then presented Senator Borah of Idaho. His address was a demonstration for him. Borah, numbered among the progressive-republicans, made a plea for a straight republican pronouncement.

ventures the assertion on the authority of a prominent Russian expert that "all five Austrian armies are on the eve of a general retreat and that Lemberg is in great strategic danger."

On the same authority it is asserted that a "strategic breach 100 miles wide has been blown in the Austrian front, involving the armies of Gen. Count von Bothmer and Gen. von Boehm-Ermolli and part of that of Archduke Joseph Ferdinand."

According to other dispatches, the Russian success is largely due to the unprecedented use of artillery, surpassing in intensity any previous effort on either side of the eastern front. The retreat of many Austrian trench detachments was completely cut off by a curtain of shrapnel through which it was impossible for any living thing to pass, and the Austrians were thus compelled to surrender en masse.

The Times estimates the Austrian losses at 200,000.

Claim Four Ships Safe

London, June 8.—The following British official communication was issued this evening:

"In the German official account of the North Sea battle, which appeared in the Lautz, the Rostock and Eiling was admitted in addition to the Pomern and Frauenhof, which were announced as lost in the German official communication of June 1. But the loss of the Wiesbaden which was announced the first of June is now withheld."

Estimate of German Naval Losses

London, June 8.—A naval officer of high rank who has just returned from a visit to the battle cruiser fleet informed the Associated Press today that participants in the North Sea battle estimate the total German losses as follows:

Two battle cruisers, three battleships, five light cruisers, eight or nine destroyers and one submarine.

The officer said he was convinced from evidence he had obtained that the unidentified battle cruiser said to have been sunk was the Hindenburg.

Greece in Public Eye

London, June 8.—The editorials in the London morning papers are devoted largely to the situation in Greece. The leaders unanimously express relief that the entente at last has decided to take strong measures to end the anomalous situation in Greece and the belief is general that Greece will be compelled to capitulate in a short time.

Although it is known now what demands have been made upon Greece, the daily Telegraph and other morning papers express the hope that it is nothing short of demobilization of the Greek army.

The Doctor's Advice

by Dr. Lewis Baker

The questions answered below are general in character, the symptoms or diseases are given and the answers will apply in any case of similar nature.

Those wishing further advice free may address Dr. Lewis Baker, College Bldg., College-Ellwood Sts., Dayton, O., enclosing self-addressed stamped envelope for reply. Full name and address must be given, but only initials or fictitious name will be used in my answers. The prescriptions can be filled at any well-stocked drugstore. Any druggist can order of wholesaler.

Answer: The symptoms indicate derangement of kidneys and should not be neglected. I would advise halmwort tablets, a compound well suited to such cases. Obtain at any well-stocked drugstore. Any druggist can order of wholesaler.

C. O. C. asks: "I am constipated, tongue coated, have headaches, dizzy spells and indigestion sometimes. Please advise."

Answer: I advise that you begin using three grain sulphur tablets (not sulphur). These tablets are laxative, act on the liver, kidneys and bowels and tend to keep the blood pure by arousing the eliminative functions. Relief should follow quickly.

"Secretary" writes: "I have pains in my spine and frightful headaches in back of head, fainting spells, twitching and loss of appetite and strength, and in fact am a 'has been' when it comes to performing accustomed work and duties. Please advise."

Answer: In all such cases the assimilative functions have not kept pace with waste functions and a powerful harmless tonic treatment is needed. I find three grain codonene tablets unexcelled and advise them for you.

Mrs. C. W. B. asks: "I suffer greatly owing to too much fat. Can you advise me of a good reduction remedy?"

Answer: Any well stocked pharmacy can supply you with 5 grain arbolone tablets, packed in sealed tubes with full directions for use. These tablets have proven wonderfully effective in reducing abnormal fat.

Capt. J. W. Westbrook Is New Head Local Salvation Army

Who with his assistants has charge of the Salvation Army work in Waco.

Capt. J. W. Westbrook, formerly of the San Angelo Salvation Army, and his assistant, J. E. McGown, arrived in Waco Wednesday to take up the work of Capt. and Mrs. J. O. Burdick, who have gone to Oklahoma City. Five more assistants will come here later on.

Captain Westbrook has been in San Angelo for one year, where he was looking after the work of the Army there. He held his first service here at 10 o'clock yesterday morning on the square, and it was attended by a large crowd.

He reported himself as pleased with prospects for the work in this city and remarked that one of the noticeable things about the city that had impressed him was the hospitality and friendliness of the people.

Services will be held on the square by the Army three times a week, each Tuesday, Thursday and Sunday being devoted to services in the hall on Third street facing the square. The same rooms that were occupied by the preceding officers will be used by the new ones.

Blackheads Go Quick By This Simple Method

Blackheads—big ones or little ones—go off quick by a simple method that just dissolves them. To do this get about two ounces of powdered norexin from your druggist—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet sponge—rub it over the blackheads briskly for a few seconds—and wash off. You'll wonder where the blackheads have gone. The powdered norexin and the hot water have just dissolved them, flushing out the pores of the skin and leaving them open and unsightly—and unless the blackheads are big and soft they will not come out, while the simple application of norexin and water dissolves them right out, leaving the skin soft and the pores in their natural condition. You can get powdered norexin at any drug store and if you are troubled with these unsightly blemishes you should certainly try this simple method.

If Too Fat Get

More Fresh Air

BE MODERATE IN YOUR DIET AND REDUCE YOUR WEIGHT. TAKE OIL OF KOREAN.

Lack of fresh air it is said weakens the oxygen carrying power of the blood. The liver becomes sluggish, fat accumulates and the action of many of the vital organs are hindered thereby. The heart action becomes weak, work is an effort and the beauty of the figure is destroyed. Fat put on by indoor life is unhealthy and if nature is not assisted in throwing off a serious case of obesity may result.

When you feel that you are getting too stout, take the matter in hand at once. Don't wait until your figure has become a joke and your health ruined through carrying around a burden of unsightly and unhealthy fat. Spend as much time as you possibly can in the open air; breathe deeply, and get from Morrison's Drug Store or any drugist a box of oil of korean capsules, take one after each meal and one before retiring at night. Refresh yourself every few days and keep up the treatment until you are down to normal. Oil of korean is absolutely harmless, is pleasant to take, helps the digestion and even a few days' treatment has been reported to show a noticeable reduction in weight.

He is a brother-in-law of the retiring ambassador and was his fellow student at De Pauw university in Indiana. Mr. Sato is best remembered in America through his connection with the Japanese delegation to the Portsmouth conference in 1905 which ended the Russo-Japanese war. He was attached to the delegation as intermediary with the American press.

and then only by arrangement with the chair. About the only thing that can interfere with this program, he said, would be a report from the peace committee.

It was just 11:23 when Chairman Harding brought down his gavel. Chairman Harding asked the convention to rise while Monsignor Francis G. Kelley read a prayer. The convention stood in silence as he read the invocation.

Chairman Harding then announced ex-Secretary Stinson and Mr. Sweet of New York a committee to escort Chairman M. Dewey to the platform to make an address.

DEPEW, CANNON AND BORAH SPEAK

Mr. Dewey, 52 years old, but with a voice still round and clear, applauded republican diplomacy, asserting that "the world always has understood us up to now," brought laughter by referring to President Wilson as "the professor," and referring to G. W. J. Bryan, who was then in the audience, as "the office boy."

He spoke thirty minutes, and the office boy of his speech was five weeks' preparation and the cold new brood, it urged him, after his madly broken seven-minute minutes and tried to stop to "go on."

Chairman Harding next introduced former Speaker Cannon as "grand old Uncle Joe."

Without the celebrated "black cigar" Mr. Cannon virtually repeated the "melting pot" speech he delivered in the house during the passage of the immigration bill and closed by predicting that "the gates of hell" would not prevail against the republican platform if it were made broad enough to cover all Americans.

Chairman Harding then presented Senator Borah of Idaho. There was a demonstration for him. Borah, numbered among the progressive republicans, made a plea for a straight republican platform.

ventures the assertion on the authority of a prominent Russian expert that "all five Austrian armies are on the eve of a general retreat and that Lemberg is in great strategic danger."

On the same authority it is asserted that a "strategic breach 100 miles wide has been blown in the Austrian front, involving the armies of Gen. Count von Bothmer and Gen. von Boehm-Ermolli and part of that of Archduke Joseph Ferdinand."

According to other dispatches, the Russian success is largely due to the unprecedented use of artillery, surpassing in intensity any previous efforts on either side of the eastern front. The retreat of many Austrian trench detachments was completely cut off by a curtain of shrapnel through which it was impossible for any living thing to pass, and the Austrians were thus compelled to surrender en masse.

The Times estimates the Austrian losses at 200,000.

Two battle cruisers, three battleships, five light cruisers, eight or nine destroyers and one submarine.

This officer said he was convinced from evidence he had obtained that the unidentified battle cruiser said to have been sunk was the Hindenburg.

This District for Naval Recruiting Leads Whole U. S.

The weekly report from the bureau of navigation to the local naval recruiting station shows that the Southwestern district, in which Waco is located, secured more enlistments in the last two weeks than any other district in the United States. The closest rival for the last week was Brooklyn with twenty enlistments, the Southwestern district having secured twenty-six. For the week preceding the last the Southwestern district enlisted twenty-two, with an enlistment of eighteen from New York as the nearest rival. Ten applications have been received by the local station this week. There are now 200 vacancies in the navy, according to the report from the bureau, all except this amount having been recruited for the complement of 53,500 allowed by congress.

Entertainment Chief Feature of Social Center Meet Tonight

The North Waco school civic center will hold its regular session at the school building tonight, beginning promptly at 8 o'clock.

An unusually interesting program has been arranged for the entertainment of those who come. The auditorium of the building has been arranged so five hundred people can be accommodated and, while an invitation is extended to the general public, those residing in North Waco are urged to be present tonight. Following is the program:

Invocation, Rev. J. F. Ghormley. Opening chorus, entire audience. Recitation, J. S. Shaw, Jr. Piano duet, Misses Ruth Traut and Leta Pittillo. Piano solo, Miss Halstrom. Children's contest, Dr. L. S. Downs. Piano and violin selection, Mrs. S. E. Schaefer and Miss Hazel Lloyd Downs. Piano and cornet, Misses Reilly. Special social features.

The question is frequently heard, "What is the North Waco Civic Center I read of in the papers?" "What good does it do, or what is its object?" "I see that they allow the women and children to take part in the proceedings, which is so different to most clubs."

The following reply is given by one of the members of these inquiries: "The object of the civic center is to better the condition of every man, woman and child in North Waco. We meet semi-monthly at the beautiful school building, exchange ideas and offer suggestions about the beautification of the home and the yard. Some people who never planted a garden are now the owners of this very useful adjunct to the home and at a very small expense. Others have been induced to keep fine chickens, or pigeons. They are confined of course, but do much better than when allowed to run at large. Others have planted more trees and flowers. People who lived in the same block but who were not acquainted have been brought face to face and have learned what good people their neighbors are. Music, song and laughter characterizes every meeting. Special entertainment is provided for the children and the good ideas do as much or more of the planning and carrying out of the programs as the men. No one ever attended one of the gatherings but who came away feeling better for having gone. The civic center is growing all the time and is planning to do much good work for North Waco and its residents. Come out tonight and mingle with your neighbors."

McGregor Negro Is Killed Over Fifty Cents in Game

Assistant County Attorney D. C. Woods was called to McGregor yesterday afternoon to hold the examining trial of George Davis, a negro charged with killing Will McGhee, another negro, at McGregor yesterday morning about 5:30.

Davis surrendered after the killing to City Marshal McMahon and Constable Jim Lindsey. Three pistol shots entered McGhee's head, and one passed through his body. Either of the shots would have killed McGhee.

It is claimed that the negroes had been playing some kind of game, quarreling over fifty cents. The examining trial was held before Justice W. A. McWilliams of McGregor, Assistant County Attorney Woods representing the state. Davis was allowed a $1,000 bond to await the action of the grand jury.

"Hypocrisy."

Everybody familiar with the social life of every city from the Atlantic to the Pacific knows the social shams which come of false standards usually associated with wealth and ambition. The familiar defect of our American life is boldly and effectively laid before the gaze of all in the new William Fox drama, "Hypocrisy," which stars Virginia Pearson and shows at the Hippodrome today. The play tells with forceful moral just what makes so-called high society so low in many of its phases. It lays bare the vices of social ambitions, marriage for anything but love, man's business race for gold, woman's climb to social glory, and all the dangers of gambling whether in stocks and bonds or in social bridge. Miss Pearson as the wife of a "man of the world" goes through with unhappy results from all these stages. Her husband and mother are money mad and she has a falling for a pretty elude and bridge which leads her into debt. The picture shows the truth in the tradespeople's axiom, "It is only the poor who pay their bills."

The basis of the play was taken from New York life, where probably America's money-mad and social-climbing race is most completely accentuated. But it applies as well to the unwritten histories of every town of every size to those stories of social disgrace which are whispered from ear to ear among the city's upper classes and which are known, but rarely reprinted in every newspaper office in the land. Only seldom when a divorce suit or sudden crime brings them into the courts, do the common folk of every-day life realize how blessed they are to possess the virtues of poverty and homely simplicity. In "Hypocrisy" we see society as it really is, not as it is posed and sham lead so many to think it is.

Brazos in Future May Be Scene of Many Regattas

The little rise in the Brazos river of a few feet was a good illustration of the pleasure which is to come to residents here when the lock and dam shall have been approved finally and the water turned in and backed up to Waco, a condition which will result within a few weeks, according to those in charge of the final stages of the lock and dam below Waco.

Chapin and Ira Seley took their nautical launch out on the three-and-a-half foot rise of Wednesday and had a most enjoyable time of it, pulling with ease and speed with their motor-driven boat against the current. After using it for some time they took it to the boat-house of Chapin Seley below the city. "There are eight or ten motorboats in Waco already," said Chapin Seley yesterday, and this being the case it is fair to assume that with the Brazos backed up to Waco with five or six feet of water all the time there will be several hundred within a few years. Mr. Seley said that at the point in the East where he attended school there was a river not wider than one of the streets of Waco, and yet on a trip on this stream at one time he counted 400 canoes in a trip of six miles. This affords an idea of the condition which should exist when the Brazos is backed up in front of Waco with its depth of several feet of water and with a width of about 500 feet.

It is certain that boating will become a ruling passion with many, and that excurtors will be run to Waco on account of this feature alone. There will be regattas and many other events in which the river will figure conspicuously, and many think that it will yet prove the biggest drawing card of the many strong attractions possessed by this city.

CITY NEWS BRIEFS.

It was cool enough yesterday to call for small fires in some residences, where there were small children or sick people. The gas stoves come in handy at this point.

The following couples were yesterday issued to wed by County Clerk John W. Baker's department: D. W. Stokes and Miss Clint Jordan; Ben Adelman and Miss Sarah Ellis.

The cutting of oats will be resumed on high ground by this afternoon and a few farmers probably will cut some before noon today. The rain did not do much damage to oats and the benefits in other directions will be great.

Joe Coffey of Eddy, one of the best-known citizens of that section, was one of the out-of-town men showing enough interest in the big conventions in Chicago yesterday to call up and ask advice, it, using the long-distance telephone.

The weather man pulled off a rather colorful stunt yesterday afternoon, and as the Mexicans would say it was "poco caliente," in fact, pretty hot. There was considerable humidity about the air, caused by the evaporation, and this made the heat felt more. In the shade, however, in most sections of the city it was not specially unpleasant.

A can of some inflammable mixture caught fire yesterday afternoon on Washington street between Fifth and Sixth streets, about 4 o'clock, causing many to think an auto was being consumed. The chemical engine at the Central fire station cordoned off the blaze and put an end to the excitement. The machine in which the mixture caught fire was only slightly damaged.

The protracted meeting at Edgefield, conducted by Rev. L. E. Evans, has ended and the results were quite satisfactory. There were a number of conversions, several recommitments, and the spiritual condition of the community was improved, it is claimed. The meeting was held at the back of the church on the lawn, in the open air, and this was a comfortable and pleasant place.

All trees in the city hall park are to have attention next winter if the plans of City Commissioner Ben C. Richards are carried out. Commissioner Richards thinks that these trees are suffering from "borers" and other insect pests and from one or two other diseases, and that they should have expert attention, believing that otherwise several if not all of them will be lost. Recent storms have ruined two or three trees which had been weakened by disease.

This District for Naval Recruiting Leads Whole U. S.

The weekly report from the bureau of navigation to the local naval recruiting station shows that the Southwestern district, in which Waco is located, secured more enlistments in the last two weeks than any other district in the United States. The closest rival for the last week was Brooklyn with twenty enlistments, the Southwestern district having secured twenty-six. For the week preceding the last the Southwestern district enlisted twenty-two, with an enlistment of eighteen from New York as the nearest rival. Ten applications have been received by the local station this week. There are now 290 vacancies in the navy, according to the report from the bureau, all except this amount having been recruited for the complement of 53,500 allowed by congress.

Entertainment Chief Feature of Social Center Meet Tonight

The North Waco school civic center will hold its regular session at the school building tonight, beginning promptly at 8 o'clock.

An unusually interesting program has been arranged for the entertainment of those who come. The auditorium of the building has been arranged so five hundred people can be accommodated, and while the session is extended to the general public, those residing in North Waco are urged to be present tonight. Following is the program:

Invocation, Rev. J. F. Ghormley. Opening chorus, entire audience. Recitation, J. S. Shaw, Jr. Piano duet, Misses Ruth Traut and Leta Pittillo.

Piano solo, Miss Halstrom. Children's contest, Dr. L. S. Downs. Piano and violin selection, Mrs. S. E. Schaefer and Miss Hazel Lloyd Downs. Piano and cornet, Misses Kelly.

Special social features. The question is frequently heard, "What is the North Waco Civic Center I read of in the papers?" "What good does it do, or what is its object?" "I see that they allow the women and children to take part in the proceedings, which is so different to most clubs."

The following reply is given by one of the members to these inquiries:

"The object of the civic center is to better the condition of every man, woman and child in North Waco. We meet semi-monthly at the beautiful school building, exchange ideas and offer suggestions about the beautification of the home and the yard. Some people who never planted a garden are now the owners of this very useful adjunct to the home and at a very small expense. Others have been induced to keep fine chickens, or pigeons. They are confined of course, but do much better than when allowed to run at large. Others have planted more trees and flowers. People who lived in the same block but who were not acquainted have been brought face to face and have learned what good people their neighbors are. Music, song and laughter characterizes every meeting. Special entertainment is provided for the children and the good ladies do as much or more of the planning and carrying out of the program as the men. No one ever attended one of the gatherings but who came away feeling better for having gone. The civic center is growing all the time and is planning to do much good work for North Waco and its residents."

"Come out tonight and mingle with your neighbors."

McGregor Negro Is Killed Over Fifty Cents in Game

Assistant County Attorney D. C. Woods was called to McGregor yesterday afternoon to hold the examining trial of George Davis, a negro charged with killing Will McGhee, another negro, at McGregor yesterday morning about 5:30.

Davis surrendered after the killing to City Marshal D. McMahon and Constable Jim Lindsey. Three pistol shots entered McGhee's head, and one passed through his body. Either of the shots would have killed McGhee.

It is claimed that the negroes had been playing some kind of game, quarreling over fifty cents. The examining trial was held before Justice W. A. McWilliams of McGregor, representing the state. Davis was allowed a $1500 bond to await the action of the grand jury.

"Hypocrisy."

Everybody familiar with the social life of every city from the Atlantic to the Pacific knows the social shame which comes of false standards usually associated with wealth and ambition. The familiar defect of our American life is boldly and effectively laid before the gaze of all in the new William Fox drama, "Hypocrisy," which stars Virginia Pearson and shows at the Hippodrome today. The play tells with forceful moral just what makes so-called high society so low in many of its phases. It lays bare the vicious social ambitions, marriage for anything but love, man's business race for gold, woman's climb to social glory, and all the dangers of gambling whether in stocks and bonds or in social bridge. Miss Pearson as the wife of a "man of the world," goes through with unhappy results from all these stages. Her husband and mother are money mad and she has a falling for pretty clothes and bridge which leads her into debt. The play shows the truth in the tradespeople's axiom, "It is only the poor who pay their bills."

The basis of the play was taken from New York life, where probably America's money-mad and social-climbing race is most completely accentuated. But it applies as well to the unwritten histories of every town of every size to those stories of social disgrace which are whispered from ear to ear among the city's upper classes and which are known, but rarely repeated in every newspaper office in the land. Only seldom when a divorce suit or sudden crime brings them into the courts, do the common folk of every-day life realize how blessed they are to possess the virtues of poverty and homely simplicity. In "Hypocrisy" we see society as it really is; not all bad, for society is human, but not as its pose and bluff and sham lead so many to think it is.

Brazos in Future May Be Scene of Many Regattas

The little rise in the Brazos river of a few feet was a good illustration of the pleasure which is to come to residents here when the lock and dam shall have been approved finally and the water turned in and backed up to Waco, a condition which will result within a few weeks according to those in charge of the final stages of the lock and dam below Waco.

Chapin and Ira Seley took their nautical launch out on the three-and-a-half foot rise of Wednesday and had a most enjoyable time of it, pulling with ease and speed with their motor-driven boat against the current. After using it for some time they took it to the boat-house of Chapin Seley below the city. "There are eight or ten motorboats in Waco already," said Chapin Seley yesterday, and this being the case it is fair to assume that with the Brazos backed up to Waco with five or six feet of water all the time there will be several hundred within a few years. Mr. Seley said that at the point in the East where he attended school there was a river not wider than one of the streets of Waco, and yet on a trip on this stream at one time he counted 400 canoes in a trip of six miles. This affords an idea of the condition which should exist when the Brazos is backed up in front of Waco with its depth of several feet of water and with a width of about 500 feet.

It is certain that boating will become a ruling passion with many, and that a riding passion with many, and that excursions will be run to Waco on account of this feature alone. There will be regattas and many other events in which the river will figure conspicuously, and many think that it will yet prove the biggest drawing card of the many strong attractions possessed by this city.

CITY NEWS BRIEFS.

It was cool enough yesterday to call for small fires in some residences, where there were small children or sick people. The gas stoves came in handy at this point.

The following couples were yesterday licensed by county clerk John W. Baker's department: D. W. Stokes and Miss Clint Jordan; Ben Adelman and Miss Sarah Ellis.

The cutting of oats will be resumed on high ground by this afternoon and a few farmers probably will cut some before noon today. The rain did not do much damage to oats and the benefits in other directions will be great.

Joe Coffey of Eddy, one of the best-known citizens of that section, was one of the out-of-town men showing enough interest in the big conventions in Chicago yesterday to call up and ask about it, using the long-distance telephone.

The weather man pulled off a rather colorful stunt yesterday afternoon, and as the Mexicans would say it was "poco caliente"—in fact, pretty hot. There was considerable humidity about the air, caused by the evaporation, and this made the heat felt more. In the shade, however, in most sections of the city it was not specially unpleasant.

A can of some inflammable mixture caught fire yesterday afternoon on Washington street between Fifth and Sixth streets, about 4 o'clock, causing many to think an auto was being consumed. The chemical engine at the Central fire station came out, extinguished the blaze and put an end to the excitement. The machine in which the mixture caught fire was only slightly damaged.

The protracted meeting at Edgfield, conducted by Rev. L. L. Evans, has been an interesting one. The results were quite satisfactory. There were a number of conversions, several reclamations, and the spiritual condition of the community was improved. It is claimed that the meeting was held at the back of the church on the lawn, in the open air, and this was a comfortable and pleasant place.

All trees in the city hall park are to have attention next winter if the plans of City Commissioner Ben C. Richards are carried out. Commissioner Richards thinks that these trees are suffering from "borers" and other insect pests and from one or two other diseases, and that they should have expert attention, believing that otherwise several if not all of them will be lost. Recent storms have ruined two or three trees which had been weakened by disease.

Peremptory Verdict for Lemly.

The case charging Dr. Charles C. Lemly with practicing medicine without license was called for trial in the county court yesterday morning with Judge George N. Denton presiding. After a good deal of arguing by lawyers on both sides, at the request of Assistant County Attorney John B. Atkinson the judge had a jury empaneled and instructed them to bring in a verdict of not guilty. This is the second instructed verdict Dr. Lemly has gotten in this court, the other having been given by Special Judge George W. Barcus. This is the sixth trial Dr. Lemly has stood, gaining five acquittals.

CALOMEL TODAY, SICK TOMORROW

DOSE OF NASTY CALOMEL MAKES YOU SICK AND YOU LOSE A DAY'S WORK.

Calomel salivates! It's mercury. Calomel acts like dynamite on a sluggish liver. When calomel comes into contact with your bile it crumbles into it, causing cramping and nausea. If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your drugstore and get a 50-cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic, which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick you just go back and get your money.

If you take calomel today you'll be sick and nauseated tomorrow; besides it may salivate you, while if you take Dodson's Liver Tonic you will wake up feeling great, full of ambition and ready for work or play. It's harmless, pleasant and safe to give to children; they like it.

To End Catarrhal Deafness and Head Noises

Persons suffering from catarrhal deafness and head noises will be glad to know that this distressing affliction can usually be successfully treated at home by an internal medicine that in many instances has effected complete relief after other treatments have failed. Sufferers who could scarcely hear a watch tick tell how they have had their hearing restored to such an extent that the tick of a watch was plainly audible seven or eight inches away from either ear. Therefore, if you know of someone who is troubled with head noises or catarrhal deafness, cut out this formula and hand it to them and you will have been the means of saving some poor sufferer from perhaps total deafness. The prescription can be prepared at home and is made as follows:

Secure from your druggist 1 oz. Parmit (Double Strength) about 75 cents worth. Take this home and add to it 1/2 pint of hot water and 4 oz. of granulated sugar, stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.
Parmit is used in this way not only to reduce by tonic action the inflammation and swelling in the Eustachian Tubes, and thus to equalize the air pressure on the drum, but to correct any excess of secretions in the middle ear, and the results it gives are nearly always quick and effective.
Every person who has catarrh in any form should give this recipe a trial and free themselves from this destructive disease.

Waco Man Is Charmed With Address of Veteran Editor

That Henry Watterson, editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal, is still a man of very strong mentality, though declining in physical force and vigor, is the verdict of A. A. Peoples, who has been in Louisville for some time and who has returned to Waco much improved in health.

Mr. Peoples heard Henry Watterson speak the other day at a Louisville hotel to one of the clubs of that city, his subject being "National Politics." Mr. Watterson spoke for an address of only fifteen minutes on account of his age, this consideration being shown him, but after he began speaking the members of the club who were present were so enthusiastic over his talk that they kept urging him to proceed, with the result that he did not take his seat until he had spoken to the assembly for forty minutes; he stood the strain very well. Mr. Peoples said, though showing that he was taxed by the effort. His talk was superb, in the view of the Waco gentleman, who says that Watterson is a big man in his own city and has the confidence and esteem of his people to a marked degree. Watterson is described by Mr. Peoples as a man below the average height, heavy set, large boned, with hair growing rather low on the forehead, but this hair still in masses despite his age; he only has one eye, but this one is keen and observant, and his appearance is impressive, while his delivery is very good and the subject matter par excellence.

Young "Y" Boys Are Having Great Time on Summer Camp

Where the trees are tall, the leaves are thick and the cool breezes murmur at the noontide, this is where the tents of the Y. M. C. A. boys are ensconced for the annual summer camp.

The younger boys' camp of the Y. M. C. A., which started June 2 on Saunders' camp ground, is now well organized and everyone is working with enthusiasm. The boys are divided into two teams, the Insects and the Wild Animals, and each tent has a name of its own. Of the Insects are the Bees, Ants and Fleas; of the Wild Animals are the Leopards, Wild Cats, Tigers and Bisons.

The entire camp is under the supervision of Secretary A. J. Flowers, and under him Joe Tucker leads the Insects and Clyde O'Neil leads the Wild Animals. Different contests are being held between the two teams in swimming, fishing and baseball, and a prize is given each day to the boys who keep the neatest tent.

The swimming hole is an excellent one, the water being between eight and twelve feet deep at the spring-board and running very slowly. There is a long stretch of shallow water for the boys who cannot swim well, and nobody is allowed to go in the water except at regular hours, when the leaders keep them together and watch them carefully.

Sunday is usually a hard day to spend in camp, but it did not prove so on June 4. Breakfast was eaten after a short Bible service and prayer, and a five minute swim, and the remainder of the morning was spent in preparing for visitors. The dinner was one never to be forgotten, consisting of vegetables, meat, corn bread, blackberry pie and many dainties, and was crowned by ice cream. Our camp cook, Parnell Smith, deserves credit for this meal.

Educational Film on Fire Prevention Was Seen by Many

The fire prevention film, as it might be termed, which was placed on exhibition at the Hippodrome theater yesterday morning under the auspices of R. B. Godley, Jr., chief engineer of the state fire insurance board, and A. O. Boniface, special agent of the United Underwriters' Laboratory in Chicago, drew out a large number of people in Waco and from points near here, to view the pictures of fires which have ravaged different parts of the country for some time, many of these fires having been of preventable origin.

A lecturer explained the scenes as they were thrown upon the screen, and data of an interesting and instructive character was also furnished those who were present. For instance, it was shown that from 1910 to the close of 1914, a period of five years, there had been fires in the country to the extent of a total loss of $1,355,000,000, or an average for each of the five years of $270,000,000, but it was also shown that the fire prevention steps are doing good, as in 1915 the fire loss was cut down to $183,000,000, thus vindicating the efforts which are being made to educate the people on the line of caution.

The incident features which characterized the fires started here and there, and which have grown into big fires, shown yesterday, proved highly interesting, and many things which looked innocent in themselves were shown to be dangerous if the people are careless and heedless. This was very instructive, and some of the big fires shown were spectacular, giving those present a thrill. The laboratory scenes, where experiments have

Tested Oats Are Taken on Gorham Farm for Winter Planting

After aiding John Gorham in making selections of oats for planting next fall, and giving him some advice on a few other agricultural matters, D. A. Saunders, government demonstration agent with headquarters in Greenville, has returned home.

The plan followed by Messrs. Saunders and Gorham was to go carefully over the oat field, pick out clumps of oats which had stood the freeze well and which were not rusted, and from these gather the best seed that could be found, thus getting seed which were resistant and virile. The seed will be put into the ground next fall and special tests made with them. Mr. Gorham, who is president of the Texas Farmers' congress, takes a deep interest in seed selection, cultural methods, and in fact anything and everything pertaining to agriculture, and his experiences when related at any gathering of farmers are always given very close attention. He is getting some great results on his fine place near Rosqueville.

D. A. Saunders was formerly at Waco, and is doing his full part in the government program of aiding the farmers of Texas.

BEAUTY IS LIVER

DEEP

Good health, cheerful disposition, clear complexion depend upon an active liver.

Tutt's Pills

Popular since Grandma was a girl. Keep your liver right and most of your troubles will never happen.

CALOMEL TODAY, SICK TOMORROW

DOSE OF NASTY CALOMEL MAKES YOU SICK AND YOU LOSE A DAY'S WORK.

Calomel salivates! It's mercury. Calomel acts like dynamite on a sluggish liver. When calomel comes into contact with your bile it crashes into it, causing cramping and nausea. If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your drugist and get a 50 cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic, which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick you just go back and get your money.

If you take calomel today you'll be sick and nauseated tomorrow; besides it may salivate you, while if you take Dodson's Liver Tonic you will wake up feeling great, full of ambition and ready for work or play. It's harmless, pleasant and safe to give to children; they like it.

To End Catarrhal Deafness and Head Noises

Persons suffering from catarrhal deafness and head noises should know that this distressing affliction can usually be successfully treated at home by an internal medicine that in many instances has effected complete relief after other treatments have failed. Sufferers who could scarcely hear a watch tick tell how they have had their hearing restored to such an extent that the tick of a watch was plainly audible seven or eight inches away from either ear. Therefore, if you know of someone who is troubled with head noises or catarrhal deafness, cut out this formula and hand it to them and you will have been the means of saving some poor sufferer from perhaps total deafness. The prescription can be prepared at home and is made as follows:

Secure from your drugist 1 oz. Parmit (Double Strength), about 75 cents worth. Take this home and add to it 1 pint of hot water and 4 oz. of granulated sugar, stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

Parmit is used in this way not only to reduce by tonic action the inflammation and swelling in the Eustachian Tubes, and thus to equalize the air pressure on the drum, but to correct any excess of secretions in the middle ear, and the result it gives are nearly always quick and effective.

Every person who has catarrh in any form should give this recipe a trial and free themselves from this distressing disease.

BIG DELEGATIONS TO ATTEND GOVERNOR'S CAMPAIGN OPENING

The special train which will bring Gov. James E. Ferguson to Waco tomorrow from Austin will arrive over the M. & T. railroad at 11:40 tomorrow morning, according to announcement yesterday afternoon by District Passenger Agent W. A. Morrow, and it is understood that there will be a large number of the friends and supporters of Governor Ferguson on the train, coming to hear him formally open his campaign for the second term in that high office. Rumor says the governor's speech will be a long one and a hot one.

Returning to Austin, the train will leave Waco at 7 o'clock in the evening, reaching Austin shortly after 10 o'clock tomorrow night. Coming to Waco from Austin, stops will be made at Georgetown, Granzer, Bartlett, Holland and Temple, and presumably stops also will be made on the return trip to let the passengers who come to Waco get off at their home towns.

Col. A. R. McCollum, veteran editor and loyal supporter of Mr. Ferguson's administration, will introduce the distinguished guest of the city, according to announcement yesterday by Hon. O. L. Stirling, arrangements chairman.

The governor will be met at the Katy and escorted to the Raleigh hotel and shown other courtesies while in the city.

The following reception committee has been named:

Young "Y" Boys Are Having Great Time on Summer Camp

Where the trees are tall, the leaves are thick and the cool breezes murmur at the noontide, this is where the tents of the Y. M. C. A. boys are ensconced for the annual summer camp.

The younger boys' camp of the Y. M. C. A., which started June 2 on Sanderson's camp ground, is now well organized and everyone is working with enthusiasm. The boys are divided into two teams, the Insects and the Wild Animals, and each tent has a name of its own. Of the insects are the Bees, Ants and Flies, of the Wild Animals are the Leopards, Wild Cats, Tigers and Bisons.

The entire camp is under the supervision of Secretary A. J. Flowers, and under him Joe Tucker leads the Insects and Clyde O'Neil leads the Wild Animals. Different contests are being held between the two teams in swimming, fishing and baseball, and a prize is given each day to the boys who keep the nearest tent.

The swimming hole is an excellent one, the water being between eight and twelve feet deep at the spring-board and running very slowly. There is a long stretch of shallow water for the boys who cannot swim well, and nobody is allowed to go in the water except at the regular hours, when the leaders keep them together and watch them carefully.

Sunday is usually a hard day to spend in camp, but it did not prove so on June 4. Breakfast was eaten after a short Bible service and prayer, and a five minute swim, and the remainder of the morning was spent in preparing for visitors. The dinner was one never to be forgotten, consisting of vegetables, meat, corn bread, blackberry pie and many dainties, and was crowned by ice cream. Our camp cook, Panell Smith, deserves credit for this meal.

Educational Film on Fire Prevention Was Seen by Many

The fire prevention film, as it might be termed, which was placed on exhibition at the Hippodrome theater yesterday morning under the auspices of R. B. Godley, Jr., chief engineer of the state fire insurance board, and A. O. Boniface, special agent of the United Underwriters' Laboratory in Chicago, drew out a large number of people in Waco and from points near here, to view the pictures of fires which have ravaged different parts of the country for some time, many of these fires having been of preventable origin.

A lecturer explained the scenes as they were thrown upon the screen, and data of an interesting and instructive character was also furnished those who were present. For instance it was shown that from 1910 to the close of 1914, a period of five years, there had been fires in the country to the extent of a total loss of $1,125,000,000, or an average for each of the five years of $225,000,000, but it was also shown that the fire prevention steps are doing good, as in 1915 the fire loss was cut down to $185,000,000, thus vindicating the efforts which are being made to educate the people on the line of caution.

The incipient features which characterized the fires started here and there, shown yesterday, proved highly interesting, and many things which looked innocent in themselves were shown to be dangerous if the people are careless and heedless. This was very instructive and interesting, giving the present a thrill. The laboratory scenes, where experiments have been conducted showing the origin of fires not suspected by the average individual, also proved to be interesting and instructive, and the showing of the work of fire doors and windows which have been perfected and which withstand the flames in such an amazing manner, gave the audience some idea of the great efforts being made to hold down the flames.

Fire Commissioner Ben C. Richards made a strong effort to get the people out to the film exhibition, thinking that they would be waked up along the lines of fire prevention, and Fire Marshal Joe Carlisle and others did the same.

The republican platform "denounces the indefensible methods of interference employed by this administration in the internal affairs of Mexico," and, in the next breath, "refers with shame to its failure to discharge the duty of this country * * * in permitting the continuance of such conditions." That is to say, the humorist who projected that joke would have Uncle Sam keep his left hand out of Mexico, and beat the greaser to a jelly with his right.

The republican party, says the platform, favors prosecution but not persecution. That is to say, it favors sending the little thieves to the penitentiary and giving a banquet to the big thieves as captains of industry.

Penrose and Barnes went to Chicago to put Roosevelt to sleep and he seems to have them comatosed.

The republican platform assails the Underwood tariff for conditions which every school boy knows were the immediate fruits of the war in Europe. It's a fortunate thing the popular intelligence is more robust than the republican leaders think it is.

Woman suffrage fell in the first ditch, scuffed to its feet, and finally found a place in the republican platform. It is the only thing there which is worthy of a gilt-edged frame around it.

The republicans reaffirm their allegiance to the Monroe doctrine and roundly abuse Woodrow Wilson for striving to enforce it. Pickwick is still abroad in the land and still pickwicking.

When it gets down to details, the republican platform promises to do the things that Wilson's administration has been busily doing for the last three years.

The selection of Mr. MacGregor of Houston for the Texas senate by the republican national committee is equivalent to a tablespoonful of salt for the sore spots of the Texas progressives.

Russia is the only belligerent power that is able to keep on smiling all the while.

That display of fervid enthusiasm at Chicago causes one to wonder what would happen to the progressive party if Teddy should die. Would it go to

DAILY SHORT STORY.

A Letter from Rome.

By SUSAN E. CLAGETT.
(Copyright, 1916, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

He had come across the continent to see her and she stood in her sitting room fully alive to its homely comfort. Manlike, he did not notice its suggestion of shabbiness. He merely thought there had been few chances since last he had been in the room and he delighted in the blazing fire that lighted it to its furthest corner.

He had been in the country a week and had, as yet, found no opportunity for the question he had come to ask. As he waited for her he wondered why. She had met him with the greatest friendliness; they had driven together, walked together; had gone in the early morning after the turkeys that had slipped away and had driven back to their enclosure. She had told him, in a matter of fact way, that her income was from her poultry. "Not a large income," she had said, "but I make a fair living."

He had tried to take her meaning. It had been the same that afternoon. He had been asked her if she would like to go West. She had thrown back her head and laughed heartily.

"Of course, I am always dreaming of travel and some day, perhaps. Who was it said 'all things come to him who waits'?"

He was about to tell her she need not wait when callers interrupted.

But he was determined to know tonight where he stood. The uncertainty was telling on him. He was no longer a young man and grew irritable and impatient at delays that were not necessary. Eleanor knew perfectly well why he had come, what he wanted. He had always credited her with unusual insight into his motives, and she, like himself, had passed the age for delirium. Was it possible she had changed? He squared his shoulders and threw back his head. No, she could not have changed. That was out of the question. Their correspondence had faltered occasionally, but had always been resumed, even after the two or three amazing letters he had received from her several years before.

At that time the interval had been long. He put his hand in his pocket and drew out a well-worn letter and was reading it as she came into the room. She recognized his own handwriting the moment she stood beside him, but did not refer to it as she drew forward a deep, old-fashioned chair and seated herself.

Slowly he folded the sheet, put it in his envelope and returned it to his pocket. "That was the first," he said. "I received it in Athens. The others reached me while I was in Cairo. There were four in all and they about spoiled my trip. They were remarkable letters, Eleanor, remarkable from the fact they were him or would his astral presence come back and head the procession?"

If things go on in China as they have been going, the name may have to be repeated three times in order to properly describe conditions in Tsin, Tsin.

If the convention wishes, says Teddy, he will go to Chicago and make a speech. Amazing sacrifice. Now Mr. Hughes, what will you do for the good of the country?

Texas Siftings

The Young Men's Business League of Temple is going to stage a "preparedness" parade and celebration June 14, flag day.

Postmaster Penrose N. Ions of San Angelo received notice Wednesday afternoon that beginning with the fiscal year, July 1, 1916, he will receive an increase of $100 per annum in salary, of $2,900 instead of $2,800 per annum.

Very few Dallas citizens are going to attend the St. Louis convention of democrats. So far the delegation from this city is: Harry Lawther, delegate-at-large; Royall Watkins, delegate fifth congressional district; Pat O'Keefe, assistant sergeant-at-arms, Texas delegation; Tom B. Love, contestant for committee man for the state; Mayor Henry D. Lindsay. "There is nothing like the interest in the convention this year as held in 1912," said Pat O'Keefe, attendant extraordinary on all political conventions. "There is no issue at all at stake."

Robert Higgins, secretary of the Buy-It-Made-in-Texas association, has closed his office and headquarters in the Oriental hotel in Dallas and left for Fort Worth Wednesday. Mr. Higgins will visit Fort Worth, Waco, San Antonio, Austin and other points before going to the annual convention of the association to be held in Houston June 26 and 27.

Meeting of the board of trustees of Austin college at Sherman was held Tuesday. The Rev. Wm. M. Anderson and the Rev. W. Fred Galbraith of Dallas are members of the board. Dr. Anderson is president and Dr. Galbraith is secretary. Plans were made for a new building to cost $100,000. A financial campaign will be conducted this summer.

The Northwest Episcopal convocation of the diocese of Texas is now in session with Grace Episcopal church of Georgetown. Dean W. P. Witsell is in charge of the meeting, and there is an attendance from the fifteen counties in the district.

At 6 o'clock Wednesday morning a bolt of lightning struck a brick chimney on the residence of Capt. James F. Phillips, district superintendent for the United States court in Galveston, tore off the entire top of the chimney and followed that structure to the ground. At the base of the chimney the family cat was resting after his night's vigil, and the animal's tail was completely severed by the bolt, which struck about three inches from the tip of the tail, leaving a four-inch stub to represent the caudal extremities of the unhappy feline for the remainder of his days.

The secretary of state's department in Austin approved and filed the charter of the Texas Steel company of Houston, capital stock $2,500,000, incorporated by L. P. Featherston, J. C. Burnette and T. C. Morgan. The purpose is to manufacture iron and steel products.

One hundred and twelve dogs already have "donkey ears" and "horseshoe" tags now being issued from the city collector's office in Austin. There are, however, about 500 dogs in Austin whose masters have not yet written by so cold a woman as I. I have read them every day and every day have wondered at the imbecile reply I sent you from Rome.

"I wonder still, I was fully aware it was your influence that had urged me on to accomplishment. I have succeeded beyond my utmost ambition and have you to thank for stimulating and guiding me. I have made. Knowing how constantly I have acted upon your suggestions, how I have pushed aside obstacles, overcome almost insurmountable difficulties simply because you expected it of me, I have never understood why I acted as I did. Whatever the reason, I have long regretted that letter, and I hope you will be good enough to say to me in your next that you will consent to be my wife."

She did not answer at once and her reply was not direct when it came.

"I would like to tell you a story, Judge Norton," she said. "Just an ordinary story differing little in detail from many others, but it is from the viewpoint of a woman and in that it may be interesting. It commenced a good many years ago, when the reality of man and woman ran its way through friendship and ended, as is usual in such cases, with one of them becoming something more than a friend. The man, it was when he was serious, she was playful. Not in a way, it was not enough to make marriage desirable. The man went away, but their correspondence did not cease. The place of his companionship and each time he returned she felt she had grown a little nearer to him, but could not bring herself to let him see what she knew he wished to know, although he said little. Impulsive as a girl, as a woman, circumstances had forced her to hide her deeper feelings, and she was unable to give them expression. To all appearances, she was cold."

"The odd part of the story, your honor, is the young woman never thought the man might change. This was not vanity. It was her understanding of a character that was not likely to veer from a certain established trend of mind and thought."

Millions.

The infinite mind of mere man becomes befogged at the infinite figures necessary to express a billion dollars. It would be easier for the mind's eye to picture a flock of fifty Equitable buildings worth $20,000,000 a piece than to grasp the abstract idea of a billion perfectly good American dollars. Yet the American industrial and railroad companies always work on such totals in their business conduct.

Recently the representative of a leading English journal, who is over here to prepare an American special number visited Washington and talked with the president, cabinet and heads of departments and bureaus. He returned to New York and interviewed some of the capitalists, and the burden of his first cable to his employers ran something like this: "I thought I could do this job fine, but I am among a people who think and speak of billions and frankly I must have help, as I feel that my mind alone cannot grasp the immensity of this country's wealth and operations."—Wall Street Journal.

Birth Control in Texas.

The old axiom that too much is sufficient was again illustrated today when thousands of Texas roosters, having made a serious faux pas in the matter of the servative coop conduct, suffered severe operations upon their necks. Today they are resting quietly in various Texas butcher shops. The reason for forcing birth control upon the hens of the state is that the farmers have been getting so many eggs that prices have steadily slumped. Of late the price of drama missiles has been so low that even the ultimate consumer is dissatisfied, and it became obvious that the farmer must take drastic action. They spared only enough of the gentlemen fowl to assure future chicken families.—Sherman (Texas) News, New York Herald.

Standardization laws for legal advertising were urged before the Texas Press association today by Earl W. Hodges, secretary of state of Arkansas and secretary of the Arkansas Press association. Some laws provide too little legal publication and some too much, he said. Under such conditions, he added, taxpayers do not get proper service. Joe J. Taylor of the Dallas News spoke on the characteristics of the country press.

WONDERFUL TALE OF AN ACTRESS

Struggled with Sickness and Discouragement; How Relieved.

Dayville, Killingly, Conn.—"I shall be glad to have every woman know what I know now, after using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Although I am only 24 years old, I have suffered for the past eight years. I hated the doctors, for a doctor told me to give up the stage where I was playing with my husband.

I had bearing down pains, my health failed me, and I could not work on the stage, and wasn't able to tend my baby or even get around myself. I was always downhearted and discontented with the world, and only lived for the sake of my little girl. The doctor said to move to some quiet little town away from the noisy city, and I might be able to live and feel well, so I went to Dayville in November. At that time I was so sick I could not walk around, and my husband kept house and I stayed in bed. One day in January I read your advertisement in a newspaper, and I sent for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and started taking it. Within two weeks time I was a different woman, could get around, and felt so good that it was a pleasure to do my household work. I felt contented and happy, and now am the picture of health, and am tempted to return to the stage. We appreciate my health as the most precious thing on earth."—Mrs. H. L. KLENNETT, Box 85, Killingly, Conn.

Hon. Pat M. Neff of Waco made a brief preliminary talk, followed by a pleasing introduction by Earl B. Smyth of Mart. Dr. Brooks' address was greeted throughout with applause and the attitude of the crowd was very favorable as expressed by their outbursts.

Among the Mart men on the platform were Edgar McLendon, L. M. Benson, Rabe Wilson, S. C. Foster, Parks Smith and ex-Mayor H. B. Mistrot, Hon. J. W. Blake, L. B. Smyth and others.

He stated that the average compensation to the firm is 30 per cent profit, a contingent fee of 10 per cent of profits made. He calculated that the firm makes but 1.65 per cent profit out of the 30 per cent paid them. He said 28.35 per cent is used in conducting Texas business.

The republican platform "denounces the indefensible methods of interference employed by this administration in the internal affairs of Mexico," and, in the next breath, "refers with shame to its failure to discharge the duty of this country * * * in permitting the continuance of such conditions." That is to say, the humorist who projected that joke would have Uncle Sam keep his left hand out of Mexico, and beat the greaser to a jelly with his right.

The republican party, says the platform, favors prosecution but not persecution. That is to say, it favors sending the little thieves to the penitentiary and giving a banquet to the big thieves as captains of industry.

Penrose and Barnes went to Chicago to put Roosevelt to sleep and he seems to have them comatosed.

The republican platform assails the Underwood tariff for conditions which every school boy knows were the immediate fruits of the war in Europe. It's a fortunate thing the popular intelligence is more robust than the republican leaders think it is.

Woman suffrage fell in the first ditch, scuffled to its feet, and finally found a place in the republican platform. It is the only thing there which is worthy of a gilt-edged frame around it.

The republicans reaffirm their allegiance to the Monroe doctrine and roundly abuse Woodrow Wilson for striving to enforce it. Pickwick is still abroad in the land and still pickwick-ing.

When it gets down to details, the republican platform promises to do the things that Wilson's administration has been busily doing for the last three years.

The selection of Mr. MacGregor of Houston for the Texas member of the republican national committee is equivalent to a tablespoonful of salt for the sore spots of the Texas progressives.

Russia is the only belligerent power that is able to keep on smiling all the while.

That display of fervid enthusiasm at Chicago causes one to wonder what would happen to the progressive party if Teddy should die. Would it go to him or would his astral presence come back and head the procession? If things go on in China as they have been going, the name may have to be repeated three times in order to properly describe conditions in Tsin, Tsin.

If the convention wishes, says Teddy, he will go to Chicago and make a speech. Amazing sacrifice. Now Mr. Hughes, what will you do for the good of the country?

Texas Siftings

The Young Men's Business league of Temple is going to stage a "preparedness" parade and celebration June 14, flag day.

Postmaster Penrose N. Ions of San Angelo received notice Wednesday afternoon that beginning with the fiscal year, July 1, 1916, he will receive an increase of $100 per annum in salary, or $2,900 instead of $2,800 per annum.

Very few Dallas citizens are going to attend the St. Louis convention of democrats. So far the delegation from this city is: Harry Lawther, delegate-at-large; Royall Watkins, delegate fifth congressional district; Pat O'Keefe, assistant sergeant-at-arms, Texas delegation; Tom B. Love, contestee for committeeman for the state; Mayor Henry D. Lindsley. "There is nothing like the interest in the convention this year as held in 1912," said Pat O'Keefe, assistant extraordinary on all political conventions. "There is no issue at all at stake."

Robert Higgins, secretary of the Buy-It-Made-in-Texas association, has closed his office and headquarters in the Oriental hotel in Dallas and left for Fort Worth Wednesday. Mr. Higgins will visit Fort Worth, Waco, San Antonio, Austin and other points before going to the annual convention of the association to be held in Houston June 26 and 27.

Meeting of the board of trustees of Austin college at Sherman was held Tuesday. The Rev. Wm. M. Anderson and the Rev. W. Fred Galbraith of Dallas are members of the board. Dr. Anderson is president and Dr. Galbraith is secretary. Plans were made for a new building to cost $100,000. A financial campaign will be conducted this summer.

The Northwest Episcopal convocation of the diocese of Texas is now in session with Grace Episcopal church of Georgetown. Dean W. P. Witsell is in charge of the meeting, and there is an attendance from the fifteen counties in the district.

At 6 o'clock Wednesday morning a bolt of lightning struck a brick chimney on the residence of Capt. James P. Phillips, district superintendent of the United States coast guard in Galveston, tore off the entire top of the chimney and followed that structure to the ground. At the base of the chimney the family cat was resting after his night's vigil, and the animal's tail was completely severed by the bolt, which struck about three inches from the tip of the tail, leaving a four-inch stub to represent the caudal extremities of the unhappy feline for the remainder of his days.

The secretary of state's department in Austin approved and filed the charter of the Texas Steel company of Beaumont, capital stock $2,500,000, incorporated by L. P. Featherstone, S. G. Burnett and T. C. Morgan. The purpose is to manufacture iron and steel products.

One hundred and twelve dogs already have donned the new "lucky horseshoe" tags now being issued from the city collector's office in Austin. There are, however, still some dogs in Austin whose masters have not yet written by so cold a woman as you. I have read them every day and every day have wondered at the imbecile reply I sent you from Rome.

"I wonder still. I was fully aware it was your influence that had urged me on to accomplishment. I have succeeded beyond my utmost ambition and have you to thank for attaining such efforts as I have made. Knowing how constantly I have acted upon your suggestions, how I have pushed aside obstacles, overcome almost insurmountable difficulties simply because you expected it of me, I have never understood why I acted as I did. Whatever the reason, I have long regretted that letter, and I hope you will believe me when I say it is my dearest hope that you will consent to be my wife."

She did not answer at once, but her reply was not direct when it came. "I would like to tell you a story, Judge Norton," she said. "Just an ordinary story differing little in detail from many others, but it is from the viewpoint of a woman, and in that it may be interesting."

"It commenced a good many years ago, this story of a man and a woman ran its way through friendship and ended, as is usual in such cases, with a man becoming something more than a friend. The man, it was when he was serious, she laughed. Not in ridicule, but because, although she cared in a way, it was not enough to make marriage desirable. The man passed away, but their correspondence did not take the place of his companionship and each time he returned she felt she had grown a little nearer to him, but could not bring herself to let him see what she knew he wished to know, although he said little. Impulsive as a girl, as a woman, circumstances had forced her to hide her deeper feelings, and she was unable to give them expression. To all appearances, she was cold."

The odd part of the story, your honor, is, the young woman never thought the man might change. This was not vanity. It was her understanding of a character that was not likely to veer from a certain established trend of mind and thought.

"At first she was sorry this was so, but as her home life, always difficult, now became intolerable, she turned to him never doubting an immediate response. Made desperate by conditions she could not bear, she asked him to come to her."

"It was a heart letter, but it brought no reply. Many weeks later, she received two or three lines. They told her he was on his way East. There was no reference to what she had written. Just those two or three lines stating a bold fact. If she had been in her normal state of mind, your honor, she would have realized something was wrong. She did wonder a little, but knowing him to be reserved, thought he preferred to talk with her rather than to write. But it hurt."

She watched for him, but the days passed without fur. Then a day came to her from his old home. He had passed her by, the first time in all the years of their friendship, and she was in trouble. Yet so dulled was she by wretchedness that even then she did not doubt him. Though the hurt went deep she still made excuses for him. "When she finally met him he told her he was going to Europe. The announcement played into her thought. She supposed he referred to their going together. She was possessed by the belief that she was still as necessary to him as he had become to her. But he left her, left her with scarcely a word of reference to her letter."

"Her last evening together was a nightmare for her to remember. After coldness had chilled him, else he would have spoken. Of this she was sure. She must tell him plainly she cared. Then she committed the folly of her life. She wrote to him. Not one letter, but several. They were all love letters. That much she knows. What she said, she has mercifully forgotten. But never once did she imagine she had placed him in a difficult position. Then one day came a letter from Rome."

"She laughed when she read it. 'What has come over the man?' she asked herself. When realization came to her she was numb, frozen by what she had done. The thought that she had told him she cared bit so deeply into her pride she cared but so deeply to reaction. Not all at once. Such hurts do not heal easily, but in the course of time she did get over it. Three years later, their interrupted correspondence was resumed. It came about quite naturally. He had been appointed to the bench and she wrote to congratulate him. That was several years ago."

"As a judge, you, yourself, have been called upon to decide nice questions, questions where the distinctions are subtle. Was the woman in the wrong? She thinks not. But she can guess the man's amazement as he read those letters; his feelings, that even if his actions were confirmatory until those last days, she had no right to attach importance to them until he had said the words that would support them."

"He has come back and now asks in plain words what he asked many years ago when they were young together—what he asked by implication year after year. She is no longer young. She is alone. Her support comes from her own efforts and sometimes she grows weary. Her love for him is dead. But she feels warm friendships. Will friendships and companionship take the place of that other feeling now that she is past youth? Does he really care, or is his desire for her merely a pang of conscience that he should have so hurt her? A wish to make amends for that hurt? I think she lost all sense of adjustment when she received that letter."

Long before she had finished, Judge Norton had left his place before the fire and was walking slowly back and forth the length of the room. As her voice ceased he stopped before her.

"I show up pretty badly, Eleanor. I did not know how badly, but I will be thankful for your friendship and companionship. If you will give them to me, I have been a very lonely man since I sent you that letter from Rome. Will you go back with me?" "Yes, whenever you wish."

Editors to Meet in Texarkana

El Paso, June 8.—Texarkana was chosen as the place for holding the 1917 Texas Press association convention at the final session here today. Henry Edwards of Troupe was elected president. Standardization laws for legal advertising were urged before the Texas Press association today by Earl W. Hodges, secretary of state of Arkansas and secretary of the Arkansas Press association. Some laws provide too little legal publication and some too much, he said. Under such conditions, he added, taxpayers do not get proper service. Joe J. Taylor of the Dallas News spoke on the characteristics of the country press.

Wonderful Tale of an Actress

Struggled with Sickness and Discouragement; How Relieved.

Dayville, Killingly, Conn.—"I shall be glad to have every woman know what I know now, after using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Although I am only 24 years old, I have suffered for the past eight years. I hated the doctors, for a doctor told me to give up the stage where I was playing with my husband. I had bearing down pains, my health failed me, and I could not work on the stage, and wasn't able to tend my baby or even get around myself. I was always downhearted and discontented with the world, and only lived for the sake of my little girl. The doctor said to move to some quiet little town away from the noisy city, and I might be able to live and feel well, so I went to Dayville in November. At that time I was so sick I could not walk around, and my husband kept house and I stayed in bed. One day in January I read your advertisement in a newspaper, and I sent for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and started taking it. Within two weeks time I was a different woman, could get around, and felt so good that it was a pleasure to do my housework. I felt contented and happy, and now my picture of health, and am tempted to return to the stage. We appreciate my health as the most precious thing on earth."—Mrs. H. L. KLENETT, Box 85, Killingly, Conn.

Local Friends of Dr. Brooks Hear His Mart Address

More than a score of autos carrying admirers of Dr. S. P. Brooks, candidate for the United States senate, went from this city to Mart for the address of the Waco candidate last night, and helped swell the crowd of nearly 1,000 that heard the speech with marked applause. E. M. Parker, cashier of the First National bank, was chairman of the meeting. Music by the Mart band lent its part in making the evening a political festival for that section of the country.

Among the Mart men on the platform were Edgar McLendon, L. M. Benson, Rabe Wilson, S. C. Foster, Parks Smith and ex-Mayor H. B. Mistrot, Jr., J. W. Blake, L. B. Smyth and others.

He stated that the average compensation to the firm is 20 per cent plus a contingent fee of 10 per cent of profits made. He calculated that his firm makes but 1.65 per cent profit out of the 36 per cent paid them. He said 23.33 per cent is used in conducting Texas business.

WACO OILERS

ONE RUN SAGE LIVES UP TO OLD NICKNAME WITH HONORS HIS WAY.

COYLE SAVES GAME IN NINTH

Aitchison Finds Out Ex-Big Leaguers Are No Terrors to Navigators.

"Nutter pretty tollable good day for Norman."

The center fielder was on the job all day, but his circus catch in the ninth positively saved the game for Waco. Sage had run true to form and allowed but one run up to the ninth and the Naves had managed to break a few rules and accumulate two tallies for the big pitcher. Nixon started the ninth by grounding out to Malmquist, but Mosley scratched an infield hit between Conwell and Tanner. McMahon batted for Andreen and after missing two swings connected and hit safe to left. With one down and first and second occupied, Icho batted for Aitchison. He lost no time, but connected with a fast one and it started on a long journey for the right-center fence. "There goes your old ball game," Coyle had a chance in the world to catch the drive, but he was away good and before anybody realized he was even trying for it, he reached up back-handed and made the catch, extended to his last stretch. Napier, who had run for McMahon, had a good start, and was rounding second when the ball was caught. Both men could easily have scored and the game probably would have been lost. It was a great catch and a fitting climax to a good game.

Big Gavage Sage was a new animal to the fans. They didn't hardly understand it. He started the game with a good bunch of smoke and his curve was breaking good, but either his arm was adjusted too low or else Red had the target set too low. George was in control through the first three innings, for southpaws in general by polling a long double against the left-center fence. Tanner also singled, but a perfect peg to the right-center fielder, Jimmy James. In the second inning, a long peg to Nixon from Wohlleben's fly cut Tanner off at the plate.

The Oilers tied the score in the sixth. With one out, Delahanty hit to left. Dodd fielded it, but Perry and Nixon hit in quick succession. Delahanty scored. Tanner opened the seventh with Waco with his third hit and was promptly sacrificed by Kuhn. Wohlleben grounded out to Schmidt, but Malmquist caught one on the nose and hit it. Nixon's head for a triple, scoring Tanner with the winning run.

Charlie Moran appeared as umpire on his first trip to Waco. He had a bad day. In fact, three decisions which were close had to be decided in favor of Waco. On the third one Manager Jim Delahanty got his Irish up a-plenty, and there he stood, looking at the umpire and nodding his head as if he were a good iron dumper on the unprincipled head of the umpire. Of course Charlie's around here himself with the same stuff, but all spectators agreed that he seemed to render their decision in favor of Delahanty. The controversy was an excuse for the umpire to break out and put on another show. Compare to Jack, Charlie Chaplin in the old days was a funeral. Nothing that the right umpire is directed to do. He doesn't look in the direction of the umpire or say a word, but his pantomime turns the game into a vaudeville show. Johnston's act is enough to break the second appearance of the comedian, carried a line of new stuff that was a surprise. He had the long street run the side (?) by catching an imaginary fly and had duly returned the ball to the diamond, he walked rapidly over to the batter's box and pointed at the pitcher and played wild animal, yowling like a coyote and clawing at the bars. Then putting it over his shoulder, he went to the corner by the club house and began to dig for imaginary worms. This was too much for the crowd, and scores and fans are almost always assured of seeing a good game when they are on deck. Yesterday's crowd showed this, being almost all large proportion of the Oilers, which generally turn out for Buff games. And they saw a hot mix-up, too.

Those old Oilers certainly are a hard-fighting club. They have lost a majority of their games by close scores and fans are almost always assured of seeing a good game when they are on deck. Yesterday's crowd showed this, being almost all large proportion of the Oilers, which generally turn out for Buff games. And they saw a hot mix-up, too.

Both pitchers yesterday were saved by their support. Two Naves were thrown out at the plate when it seemed there wasn't a chance to get either. Coyle made two good catches and a lightning double from Wohlleben to Tanner throttled another chance for the Oilers. Wohlleben also snared with his meat hand a hard drive by Mosley and tossed to Sage for the putout.

Ray Chapman, Cleveland shortstop, showed as a pinch hitter yesterday. He has been out the greater part of the season with water on the knee. Wambagans has been doing fine work, but the Oilers are many critics who rate Chapman as the greatest living shortstop, a fighter and a good manager to handle anything that comes his way. The Oilers boss has it thought he will help the club if he rounds into form.

"Bubs" Mosley, coach for Baylor, made his appearance with the Oilers at first base and looked good at all times. He hit the ball hard on his four trips to the plate and managed to handle anything that came his way except an ugly, short-hop throw from Schmidt that nobody could have gotten. Bubs is a finished ball player and with average luck ought to make the Oilers a good man.

Mister Kuhn and his whistle were right on the job. Red slipped a ball across to Tanner in the third and caught Johnston flat-footed off second. This certainly did prove Delahanty. The Oilers boss was at bat and looking for a soft one to hit on for a run-getting hit and when he saw Moran's thumb go up he chucked his bat against the grandstand and talked to himself, his players, the umpire and everything in sight all the way to the outfield. Some peppy foreman, that Jim.

MARKET REPORT

COTTON

New York.

New York, June 8.—The cotton market just about lost yesterday's advance during today's trading, with October contracts selling down to 12.81 or 19 points below the best point reached on the bulk of the previous day. The close was about 15 to 16 points under last night's closing figures.

The opening was steady at a decline of 2 to 4 points. The failure of Liverpool to follow yesterday's local advance and of the early news to confirm yesterday's rumors of more favorable war or political developments seemed to encourage the selling movement while prospects for clearing weather in the south were considered favorable.

In the light of the market weakened under renewed liquidation.

New Orleans.

New Orleans, June 8.—Cotton stood at the decline on this market today, developing only fitful steadiness. Selling pressure was in evidence nearly from the opening to a large extent from those traders who late yesterday bought heavy on the rumor that the Germans were evacuating from Verdun.

Today a rumor that the Germans had taken Verdun led to considerable short selling. The lowest levels of the day showed a loss of 15 to 16 points from yesterday's last quotations. The close was 13 to 16 down, stimulated by favorable crop and weather accounts.

CITY WILL STOP ALL PROMISCUOUS BUYING

MAYOR DECLARES THAT ORDINANCE ON REQUISITION BUYING MUST BE OBEYED.

COMPROMISE BRIDGE LABOR

Slaughter House Ordinance Is Passed. Vacation Is Asked for Paid Firemen.

All purchases of things for the city must be made on requisitions, duly signed by the proper authorities, and no department head may buy articles in excess of $5 without requisitions, stated Mayor John Dollins at the meeting of the city commission yesterday morning, and he made it plain that this rule will be absolutely adhered to. He stated that buying had been done without requisitions in some cases, and that it must not be done again.

There was a long contest at the meeting over the painting of the new bridge, the difference being between Contractor W. D. Craig of Kansas City and members of the painters' union of Waco, represented by Secretary Smith, John Tension and others. The contractor claimed that he could use men other than union painters in cleaning and scraping the bridge, but the painters claimed the scraping belonged to them. An agreement was finally reached on the matter, and the city commission agreed to the painting contract, subject to ratification by the city commissioners.

A communication asking for a vacation of ten days for members of the paid fire department, the vacations to be annual, was presented and referred to the fire commissioner.

The weights and measures ordinance was passed finally, and scales in the city will be tested regularly, weights will be looked after and other steps taken to protect the public from persons who might be disposed to "short-weight" the people. Weights and Measures Inspector J. B. Strother will look after this department.

The slaughter house ordinance which had been pending some time, passed finally yesterday by unanimous vote. It provides the manner in which slaughtering of animals shall be carried on in the city, and the way in which slaughter houses shall be conducted with regard to objectionable odors and sounds, providing a penalty not to exceed $200 for violations.

When the commission adjourned yesterday, it adjourned to meet next Wednesday morning instead of Thursday, in order to give the commissioners a chance to go on the trade excursion of the Y. M. B. L. to Palestine, this action being on motion of Commissioner W. H. Cockcroft.

MAYOR LAYS DOWN LAW ON PURCHASING.
Mayor Dollins said that only heads of departments could buy anything, after proper ratification. All purchases up to $5 might be bought, under certain conditions, but there must be regular requisitions, properly signed, for purchases of things for the city. Merchants should take notice of this also, he said.

Commissioner Ben Richards said all heads of departments should be fined at once, and this rule would be rigidly enforced.

Mayor Dollins said some promiscuous buying, without requisitions, had been done, and it must be, and will be, stopped.

May reports of the fire marshal and building inspector were received and filed.

Commissioner Ben Richards said a light is needed at Seventh and Ivy streets. Also small lights were needed between Third and Fourth, on Ross, at Twenty-fifth and Bosque, North Sixth, between Bosque and West Cottonwood, between Third and Fourth and one in East Waco at end of Elm street. These were allowed.

The monthly report of the city electrician was received and filed.

Fire Chief Ed Bauerle submitted his monthly report, which was received and filed.

UNION LABORERS MAKE DEMANDS.
The regular monthly report of the health department was received and filed.

The contract for painting the new steel bridge, which includes the employment of union men and Waco men, was read, W. D. Craig of Kansas City being the contractor. The bid for painting the bridge, two coats, was $735.

Max Smith, secretary of the painters' union, said cleaners or dirt scrapers had been put on the bridge, and they were non-union men.

Mr. Craig contended that the dirt scrapers were not classed as painters, and he had never known them to be so classed.

Mr. Smith contended that painters' tools were used in the cleaning and scraping, and the work thus became a painters' job.

John Tension claimed that the work belonged to the painters, and if "union men" were to do the work they should be union men.

Contractor Craig said that he wanted to know if he was going to have to employ high-priced men to do scraping and cleaning work, which did not belong to union painters, as the painters were not supposed to do this kind of preparatory work.

Commissioner Harlow thought that the matter should be settled between the contractors and the men employed. Commissioner Richards said the county commissioners were also to be consulted in the matter, as they were interested. He favored settling the matter at once.

Commissioner Cockcroft thought the matter should be settled before the contract was signed, in order to prevent complications afterwards.

The city charter provides that work of this character shall be done by union men.

COMPROMISE IS FINALLY AGREED ON.
The city attorney was asked how he would rule on the matter, in view of the charter provision calling for work by union men, and he replied that this was not a matter for his department to pass on.

It was agreed between the contending parties finally that the bridge should be under the side of the structure should be scraped by the union painters, but the muddy under side of the bridge to be handled by rough labor if the contractor desired, insofar as cleaning is concerned, but all paint to be put on by union painters. The contract for painting the bridge was ratified by the city commission, provided the county commissioners approve the contract first, and it will not be signed for the city until the county commissioners approve.

The city secretary stated that the contract with the official organ of the city had expired June 4, and it was announced by the commission that new bids would be taken for an official organ.

A communication asking that the paid fire department members be given a vacation of ten days each year was read, and Capt. J. M. Miller championed the vacation idea. Asked by the commission how much the vacations would cost annually, Fire Chief Ed Bauerle replied that the cost would be $840. This matter was referred to Fire Commissioner Ben Richards for a recommendation.

An ordinance creating the office of weights and measures inspector was passed by unanimous vote. The ordinance regulates the manner in which animals shall be slaughtered inside the city limits and the manner in which the packing houses and slaughter houses shall be conducted inside the city. A penalty not exceeding $200 is provided for violation of the ordinance.

SLAUGHTER HOUSE ORDINANCE PASSES.
Weights and Measures Inspector J. B. Strother asked that copies of the ordinance and measures ordinance be printed, and these would be put into the hands of merchants and dealers generally, so that they may familiarize themselves with the same. This was, on suggestion of Mayor Dollins, referred for bids as to cost of printing.

Commissioner W. H. Cockcroft said that he thought several of the commission members wanted to attend the trade excursion of the Y. M. B. L. to Palestine next Thursday, June 15, and moved that the regular meeting of the city commission be held next Wednesday morning, June 14, so that those members wishing to go on the excursion could do so. His motion prevailed, after which the commission adjourned.

Waco Captain Is Slated for Major, Say Newspapers

Capt. Wm. McK. Lambdin, who was reared in Waco, and who has been in the military branch of the government service for a good many years, is slated for a promotion very soon, according to New York papers.

Captain Lambdin, who is a son of William Lambdin and wife of this city, is in the cavalry service, but is soon to be made a major instead of a captain. He has shown wonderful proficiency in his work all along the line, and his promotion, while gratifying to relatives and friends, will not come as a surprise. Captain Lambdin rendered conspicuous service during the troubles in the Philippines with the natives, and has been stationed in the region around New York for some time.

E. A. Stuart of Dallas, a former banker, who married Miss Bessie Foulks of Bryan, now a captain in the cavalry service, is also to be advanced to the rank of major in the cavalry service, and promotions are expected for other Texans. Captain Stuart is known to a number of persons in Waco.

This Has Been Year of Prosperity for Texas Lodges

"This has been a prosperous and active year for the lodges of the state, and reports which have been sent in have been quite encouraging."

This was the way Grand Secretary W. B. Pearson of the Masonic Grand Lodge of Texas put it yesterday afternoon when asked about matters in this line in the state. He said that while he had already heard from many lodges in Texas, the regular annual reports would be coming in from these lodges after June 24, this date being the end of the Masonic year. From the data secured from the reports sent in after June 24 will be made up complete data for the meeting of the Grand Lodge in December in Waco. Secretary Pearson will be a very busy man after June 24.

Each turn in the political wheel has been followed in this city, and the guesses which have been hazarded have been based on the knowledge which residents have of the affairs of the country and on the personality of the men. It is observed that since the Democrats have been in power there has been more interest shown in politics in this section of the country.

LOCAL INTEREST IN POLITICS IS STRONG

There has been more interest shown in the republican and progressive conventions in Chicago than ever before in this section, and traced down to its origin much of this interest arises from the regard felt for President Wilson, who is, of course, involved in the outcome of the proceedings there to a certain extent.

Waco people are predicting, most of them, that no matter what is done in Chicago, and with the strongest man that can be put up, President Wilson will succeed himself in the white oval, but of course there are some men in the republican ranks who would make the path more difficult to tread than others. For the past several days there has been speculation as to the probable outcome in Chicago, and this has grown more pronounced daily.

Each turn in the political wheel has been followed in this city, and the guesses which have been hazarded have been based on the knowledge which residents have of the affairs of the country and on the personality of the men. It is observed that since the Democrats have been in power there has been more interest shown in politics in this section of the country.

W. D. Lacy in St. Louis at Regional Bank Conference

W. D. Lacy, president of the Citizens' National bank, goes to St. Louis at once, for the purpose of attending as a delegate from Texas the meeting of heads of the regional reserve banks and their connections.

Mr. Lacy is one of the 100 men selected to go out of the 1,500 in Texas, and the gathering will be an important one, as there will be a summing up of the work and the status of the regional banks and a look into the future as to plans for conducting the work of the same. Already between thirty and forty states have reported that they will be represented in the big gathering.

It will be some time next week before Mr. Lacy returns to Waco.

Dairy Ordinance Is Hanging Fire

When the dairy ordinance proposed by the city was taken up yesterday it was found that in all probability it would require a pure food inspector straight to make the ordinance what it should be, and for that reason it was decided to postpone action on the ordinance until the next meeting, the intention being to consider the matter from every standpoint.

As the pure food inspector proposition is now hanging fire, as it were, it was thought desirable to wait at least another week on the dairy ordinance. This ordinance will provide for from one to two inspections annually of all dairies, cows and all dairy equipment.

In view of the feeling as to the probability of the ordinance widening and developing into the question of a pure food inspector its handling will be watched with considerable interest.

CITY WILL STOP ALL PROMISCUOUS BUYING

MAYOR DECLARES THAT ORDINANCE ON REQUISITION BUYING MUST BE OBEYED.

COMPROMISE BRIDGE LABOR

Slaughter House Ordinance is Passed. Vacation is Asked for Paid Firemen.

All purchases of things for the city must be made on requisitions, duly signed by the proper authorities, and no department head may buy articles in excess of $5 without requisitions, stated Mayor John Dollins at the meeting of the city commission yesterday morning, and he made it plain that this rule will be absolutely adhered to. He stated that buying had been done without requisitions in some cases, and that it must not be done again.

There was a long contest at the meeting over the painting of the new bridge, the difference being between Contractor W. D. Craig of Kansas City and members of the painters' union of Waco, represented by Secretary Smith, John Tension and others. The contractor claimed that he could use men other than union painters in cleaning and scraping the bridge, but the painters claimed the scraping belonged to them. An agreement was finally reached on the matter, and the city commission agreed to the painting contract, subject to ratification by the county commissioners.

A communication asking for a vacation of ten days for members of the paid fire department, the vacations to be annual, was presented and referred to the fire commissioner. The weights and measures ordinance was passed finally, and all scales in the city will be tested regularly, weights will be looked after and other steps taken to protect the public from persons who might be disposed to "short-weight" the people. Weights and Measures Inspector J. B. Strother will look after this department.

The slaughter house ordinance which had been pending some time, passed finally yesterday by unanimous vote. It provides the manner in which slaughtering of animals shall be carried on in the city, and the way in which slaughter houses shall be conducted with regard to objectionable odors and sounds, providing a penalty not to exceed $200 for violations.

When the commission adjourned yesterday, it adjourned to meet next Wednesday morning instead of Thursday, in order to give the commissioners a chance to go on the trade excursion to the Y. M. B. L. to Palestine, this action being on motion of Commissioner W. H. Cockcroft.

MAYOR LAYS DOWN LAW ON PURCHASING.

Mayor Dollins said that only heads of departments and buy anything, after proper requisition. All purchases up to $5 might be bought, under certain conditions, but there must be regular requisitions, properly signed, for purchases of things for the city. Merchants should take notice of this also, he said.

Commissioner Ben Richards said all heads of departments should be notified at once, and this rule would be rigidly enforced.

Mayor Dollins said some promiscuous buying, without requisitions, had been done, and it must be, and will be, stopped.

May reports of the fire marshal and building inspector were received and filed.

Commissioner Ben Richards said a light is needed at Seventh and Ivy streets. Also small lights were needed between Third and Fourth, on Ross, at Twenty-fifth and Bosque, North Sixteenth, between Bosque and West, Cottonwood, between Third and Fourth and one in East Waco at end of Elm street. These were allowed.

The monthly report of the city electrician was received and filed.

Fire Chief Ed Bauerle submitted his monthly report, which was received and filed.

UNION LABORERS MAKE DEMANDS.

The regular monthly report of the health department was received and filed.

The contract for painting the new steel bridge, which included the employment of union men and Waco men, was read, W. D. Craig of Kansas City being the contractor. The bid for painting the bridge, two coats, was $735.

Max Smith, secretary of the painters' union, said cleaners or dirt scrapers had been put on the bridge, and they were non-union men.

Mr. Craig contended that the dirt scrapers were not classed as painters, and he had never known them to be so classed.

Mr. Smith contended that painters' tools were used in the cleaning and scraping, and the work thus became a painter's job.

John Tension claimed that the work belonged to the painters, and if "union men" were to do the work they should be union men.

Contractor Craig said that he wanted to know if he was going to have to employ high-priced men to do scraping and cleaning work, which did not belong to union painters, as the painters were not supposed to do this kind of preparatory work.

Commissioner Richards thought the scraping and burning off of paint was done by painters in Waco.

cleaning is concerned, but all paint to be put on by union painters. The contract for painting the bridge was ratified by the city commission, provided the county commissioners approve the contract first, and it will not be signed for the city until the county commissioners approve.

The city secretary stated that the contract with the official organ of the city had expired June 4, and it was announced by the commission that new bids would be taken for an official organ.

A communication asking that the paid fire department members be given a vacation of ten days each year was read, and Capt. J. M. Miller championed the vacation idea. Asked by the commission how much the vacations would cost annually, Fire Chief Ed Bauerle replied that the cost would be $840. The matter was referred to Fire Commissioner Ben Richards for a recommendation.

An ordinance creating the office of weights and measures inspector was read again, having been presented previously. The ordinance was passed under suspended rules.

The ordinance creating a dairy inspector was read, but this ordinance went over one week.

SLAUGHTER HOUSE ORDINANCE PASSES.

The slaughter house and packing house ordinance, pending some time, was passed by unanimous vote. The ordinance regulates the manner in which animals shall be slaughtered inside the city limits and the manner in which the packing houses and slaughter houses shall be conducted inside the city. A penalty not exceeding $200 is provided for violation of the ordinance.

Weights and Measures Inspector J. B. Strother asked that copies of the weights and measures ordinance be printed, and these would be put into the hands of merchants and dealers generally, so that they may familiarize themselves with the same. This was, on suggestion of Mayor Dollins, referred for bids as to cost of printing.

Commissioner W. H. Cockcroft said that he thought several of the commission members wanted to attend the trade excursion of the Y. M. B. L. to Palestine next Thursday, June 15, and moved that the regular meeting of the city commission be held next Wednesday morning, June 14, so that those of the commission wishing to go on the excursion could do so. His motion prevailed, after which the commission adjourned.

Waco Captain Is Slated for Major, Say Newspapers

Capt. Wm. McK. Lambdin, who was reared in Waco, and who has been in the military branch of the government service for a good many years, is slated for a promotion very soon, according to New York papers.

Captain Lambdin, who is a son of William Lambdin and wife of this city, is in the cavalry service, but is soon to be made a major instead of a captain. He has shown wonderful proficiency in his work all along the line, and his promotion, while gratifying to relatives and friends, will not come as a surprise. Captain Lambdin rendered conspicuous service during the troubles in the Philippines with the natives, and has been stationed in the region around New York for some time.

E. A. Stuart of Dallas, a former banker, who married Miss Bessie Foulks of Bryan, was a captain in the cavalry service, is also to be advanced to the rank of major in the cavalry service, and promotions are expected for other Texans. Captain Stuart is known to a number of persons in Waco.

This Has Been Year of Prosperity for Texas Lodges

"This has been a prosperous and active year for the lodges of the state, and reports which have been sent in have been quite encouraging."

This was the way Grand Secretary W. B. Pearson of the Masonic Grand Lodge of Texas put it yesterday afternoon when asked about matters in this line in the state. He said that while he had already heard from many lodges in Texas, the regular annual reports would be coming in from these lodges after June 24, this date being the end of the Masonic year. From the data secured from the reports sent in after June 24 will be made up concrete data for the meeting of the Grand Lodge in December in Waco. Secretary Pearson will be a very busy man after June 24.

Each turn in the political wheel has been followed in this city, and the guesses which have been hazarded have been based on the knowledge which residents have of the affairs of the country and on the personality of the men. It is observed that since the democrats have been in power there has been more interest shown in politics in this section of the country.

LOCAL INTEREST IN POLITICS IS STRONG

There has been more interest shown in the republican and progressive conventions in Chicago than ever before in this section, and traced down to its origin much of this interest arises from the regard felt for President Wilson, who is, of course, involved in the outcome of the proceedings there to a certain extent.

Waco people are predicting, most of them, that no matter what is done in Chicago, and with the strongest man that can be put up, President Wilson will succeed himself in the white house, but of course there are some men in the republican ranks who would make the path more difficult to tread than others. For the past several days there has been keen speculation as to the probable outcome in Chicago, and this has grown more pronounced daily.

Each turn in the political wheel has been followed in this city, and the guesses which have been hazarded have been based on the knowledge which residents have of the affairs of the country and on the personality of the men. It is observed that since the democrats have been in power there has been more interest shown in politics in this section of the country.

W. D. Lacy in St. Louis at Regional Bank Conference

W. D. Lacy, president of the Citizens' National bank, goes to St. Louis at once, for the purpose of attending as a delegate from Texas the meeting of heads of the regional reserve banks and their connections.

Mr. Lacy is one of the 100 men selected to go out of the 1,500 in Texas, and the gathering will be an important one, as there will be a summing up of the work and the status of the regional banks and a look into the future as to plans for conducting the work of the same. Already between thirty and forty states have reported that they will be represented in the big gathering.

It will be some time next week before Mr. Lacy returns to Waco.

Dairy Ordinance Is Hanging Fire

When the dairy ordinance proposed by the city was taken up yesterday it was found that in all probability it would require a pure food inspector straight to make the ordinance what it should be, and for that reason it was decided to postpone action on the ordinance until the next meeting, the intention being to consider the matter from every standpoint.

As the pure food inspector proposition is now hanging fire, as it were, it was thought desirable to wait at least another week on the dairy ordinance. This ordinance will provide for from one to two inspections annually of all dairies, cows and all dairy equipment.

In view of the feeling as to the probability of the ordinance widening and developing into the question of a pure food inspector its handling will be watched with considerable interest.
